Volume 69, 1970

Waco High School

Waco, Texas

Dear Larry,

I love you very much.
Even though my picture is not in here I hope that you will remember what I look like when you get old and senile and look back in this book for kicks.
I love you.

Love,
Renee

HOME OF THE FIGHTING TIGERS

Nobody laughed as I shared my search for meaning
in life,
because it was their search as well.
Everyone of us was searching.
Everyone was trying to be honest.

Resolution:

We heard the talk of revolution,
Well, you know
That it was time to change the scene;
But we just needed resolution,
Don't you see,
You know what I mean.

Now black is beautiful and white is,
This we knew,
Brown is beautiful and tan;
Each age must seek out where its path is,
And we sought,
Instead, the inner man.

For peace is not an institution,
You understand,
And fists cannot hold freedom — but in
An outstretched hand.

And so we made our resolution
As you know,
For the future yet ahead
For understanding one another,
As we must,
To free our hearts and minds instead.

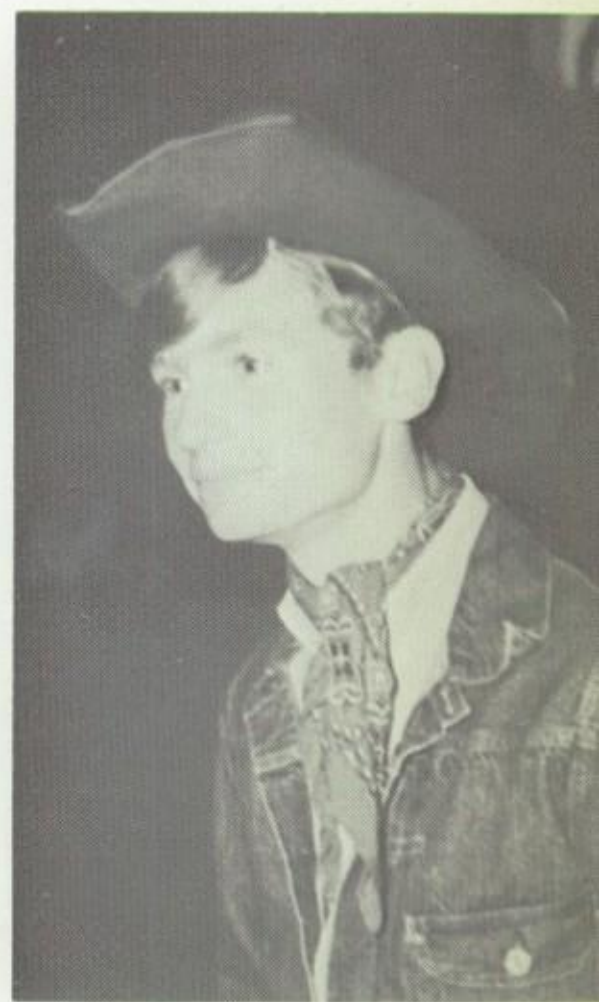

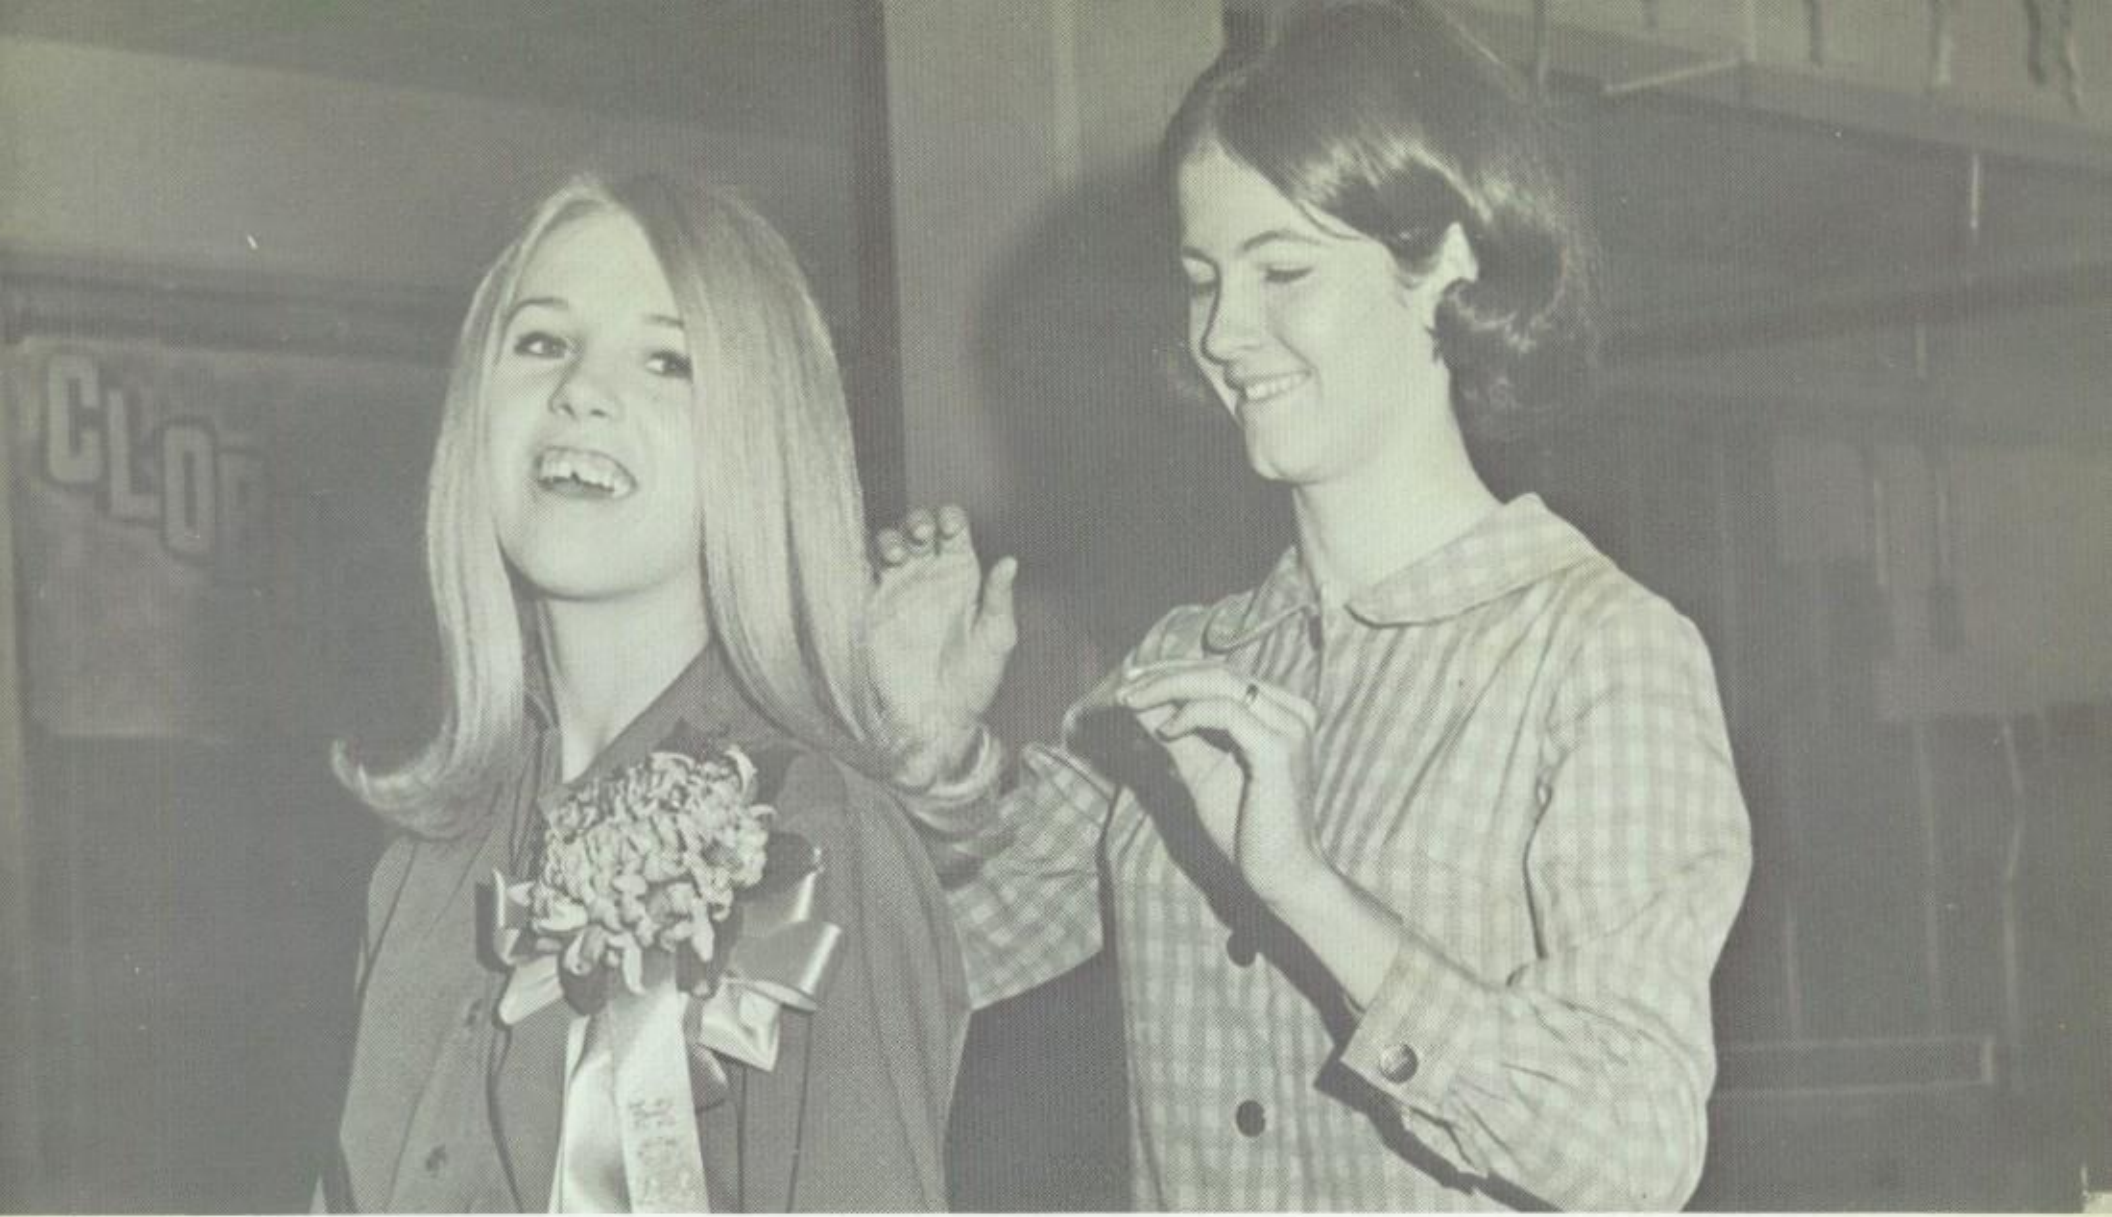

. . . Resolve to Free

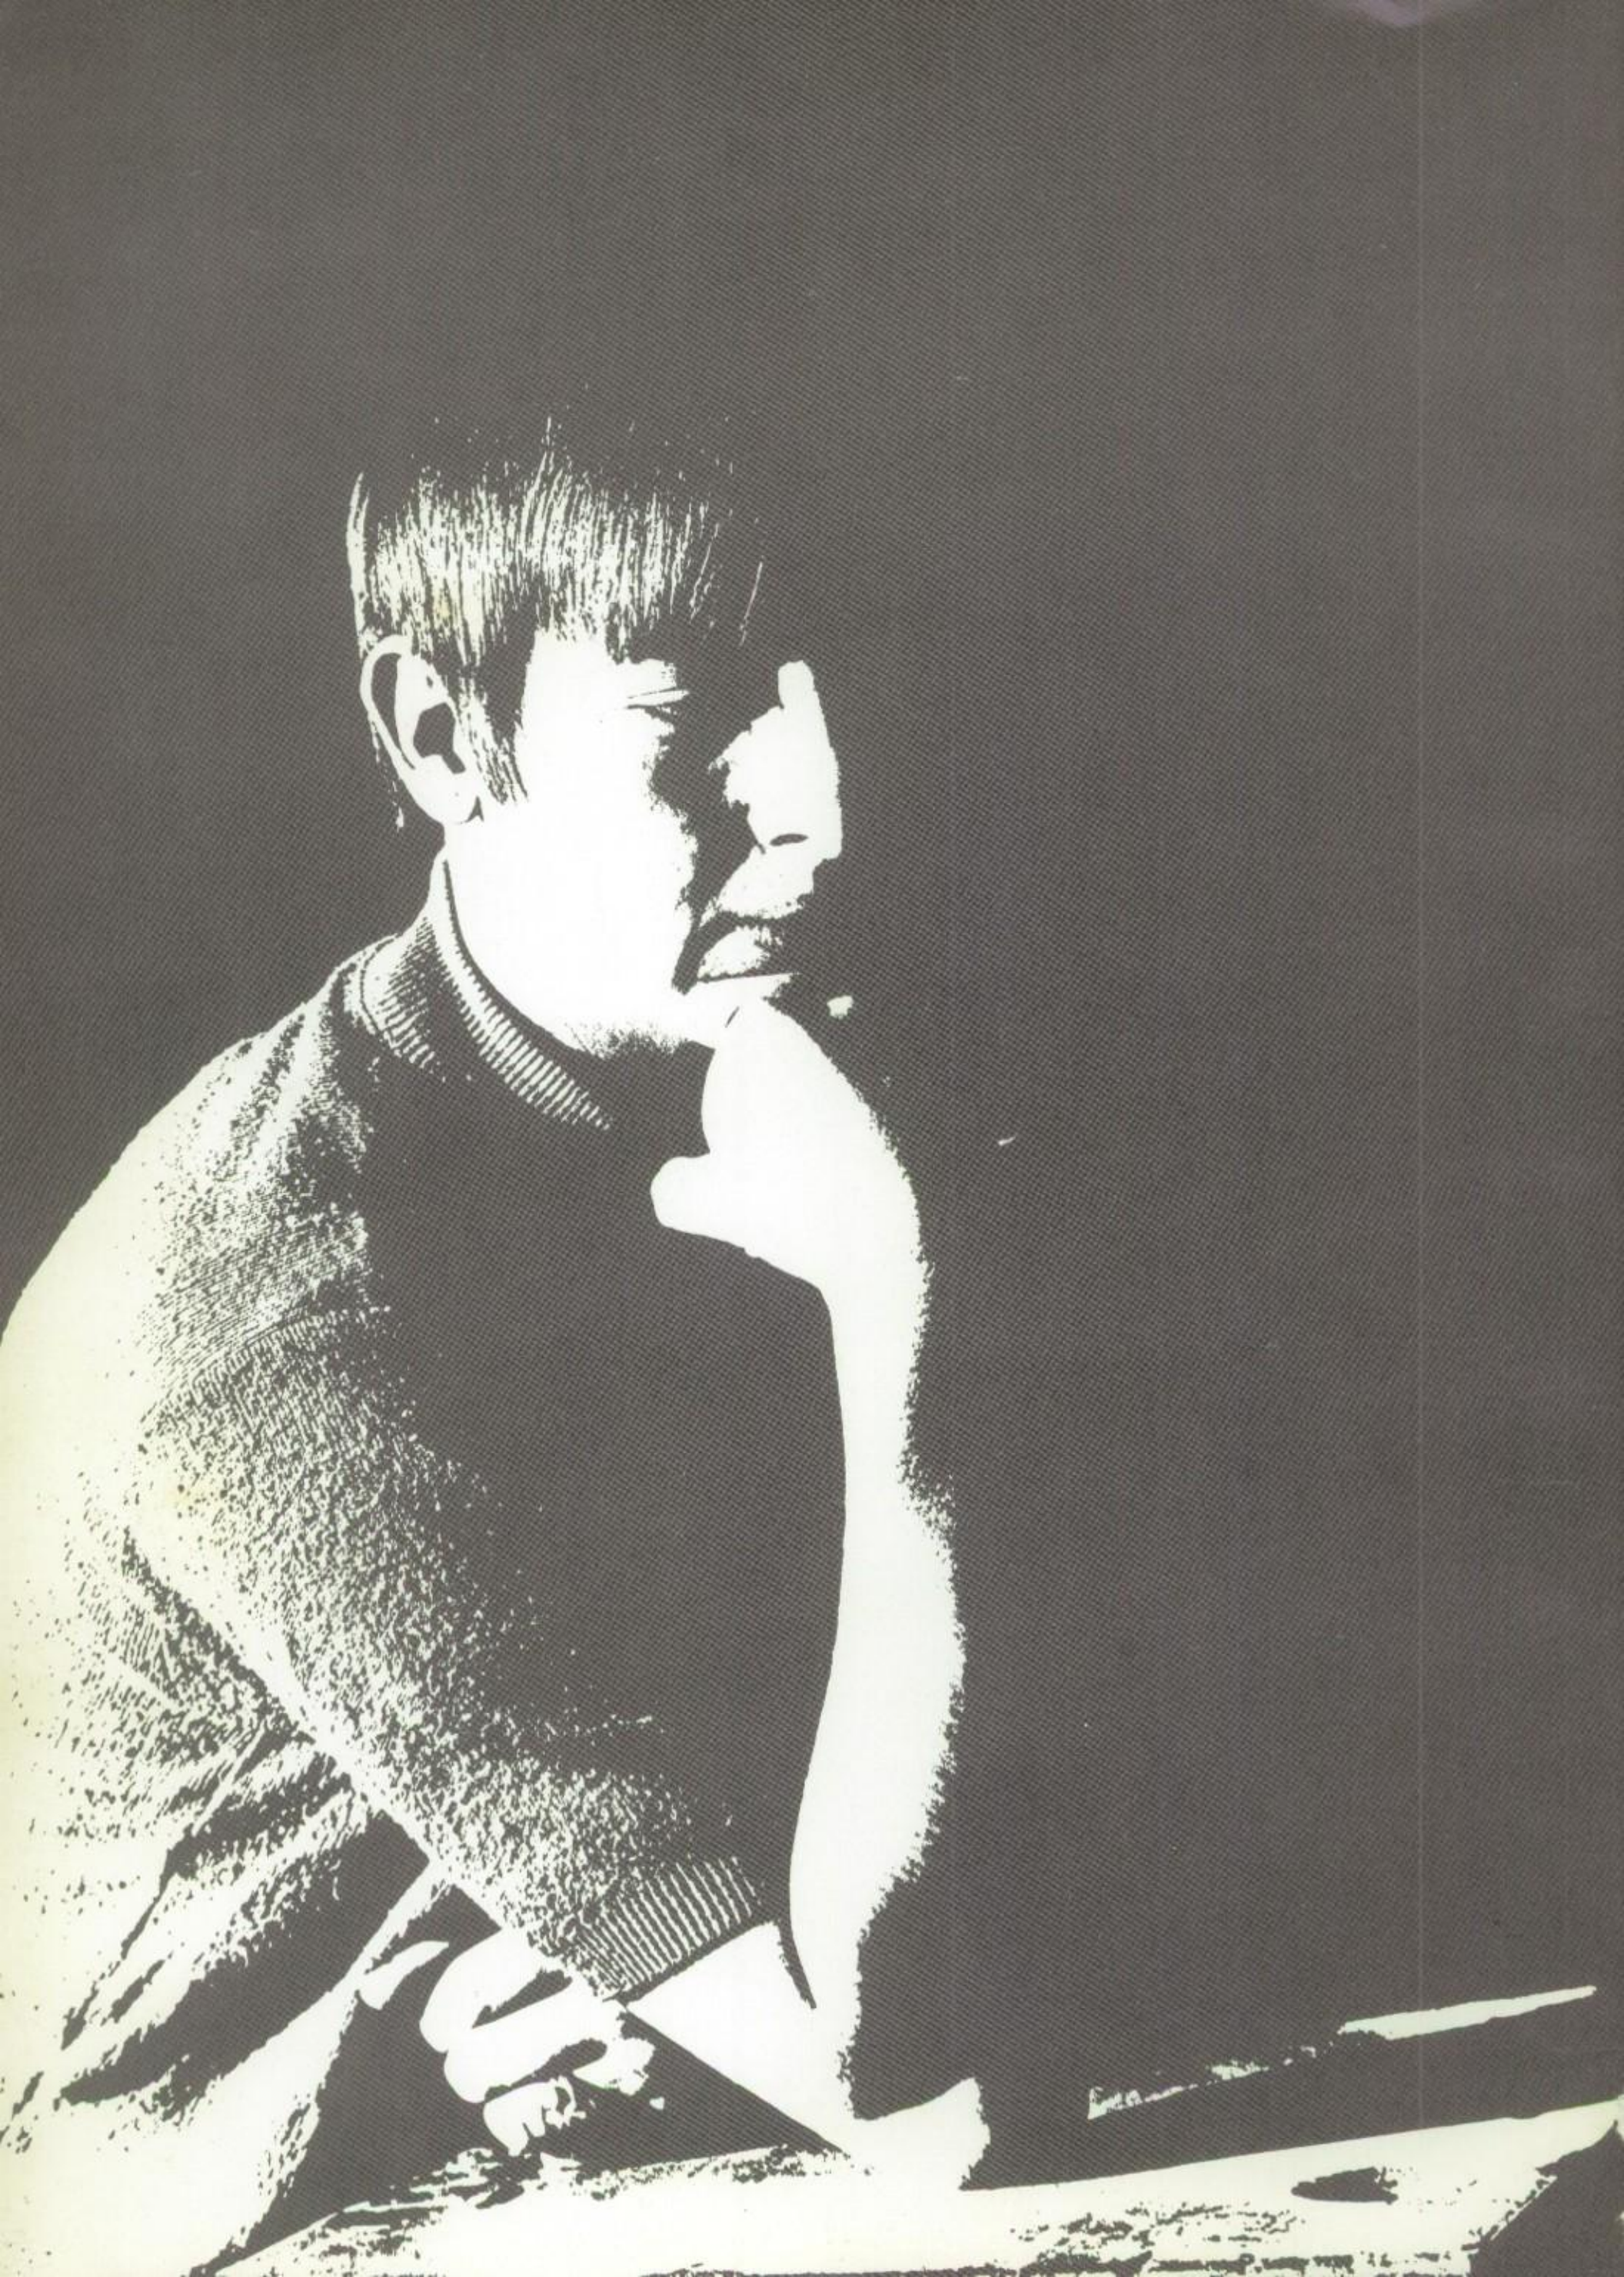

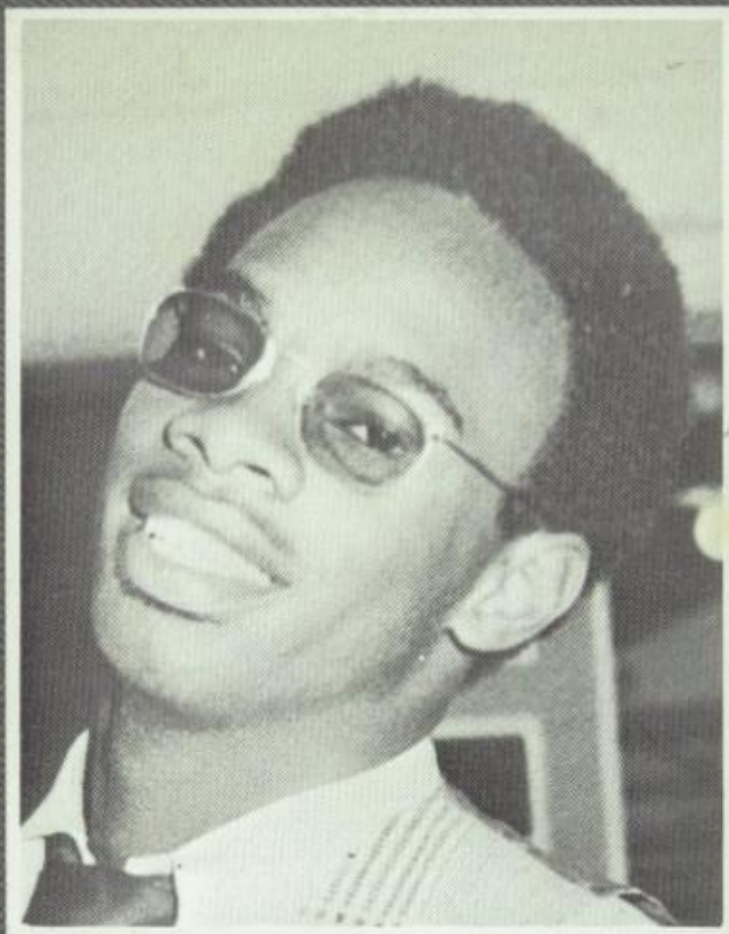

Our Hearts and Minds Instead

It was a search for an identity—a groping to be somebody for fear of being nobody—a search which began with our outer image—our looks,
 our dress,
 our speech—
but a search which ended much deeper.

We began to
 "free our minds" by looking around us. There we saw other people, and in them we saw bits and pieces of ourselves.
 We found that no one is entirely what he thinks he is, or what other people think he is, or what he really wants to be. We found that we never really understand a person until we consider things from his point of view, until we climb into his shoes and walk around.
 We found that underneath
 the outer appearance is one common denominator that makes us
 all alike—it is the need for one another;
 the need to have others affirm that we are of value,
 that we are needed and that we are real persons.

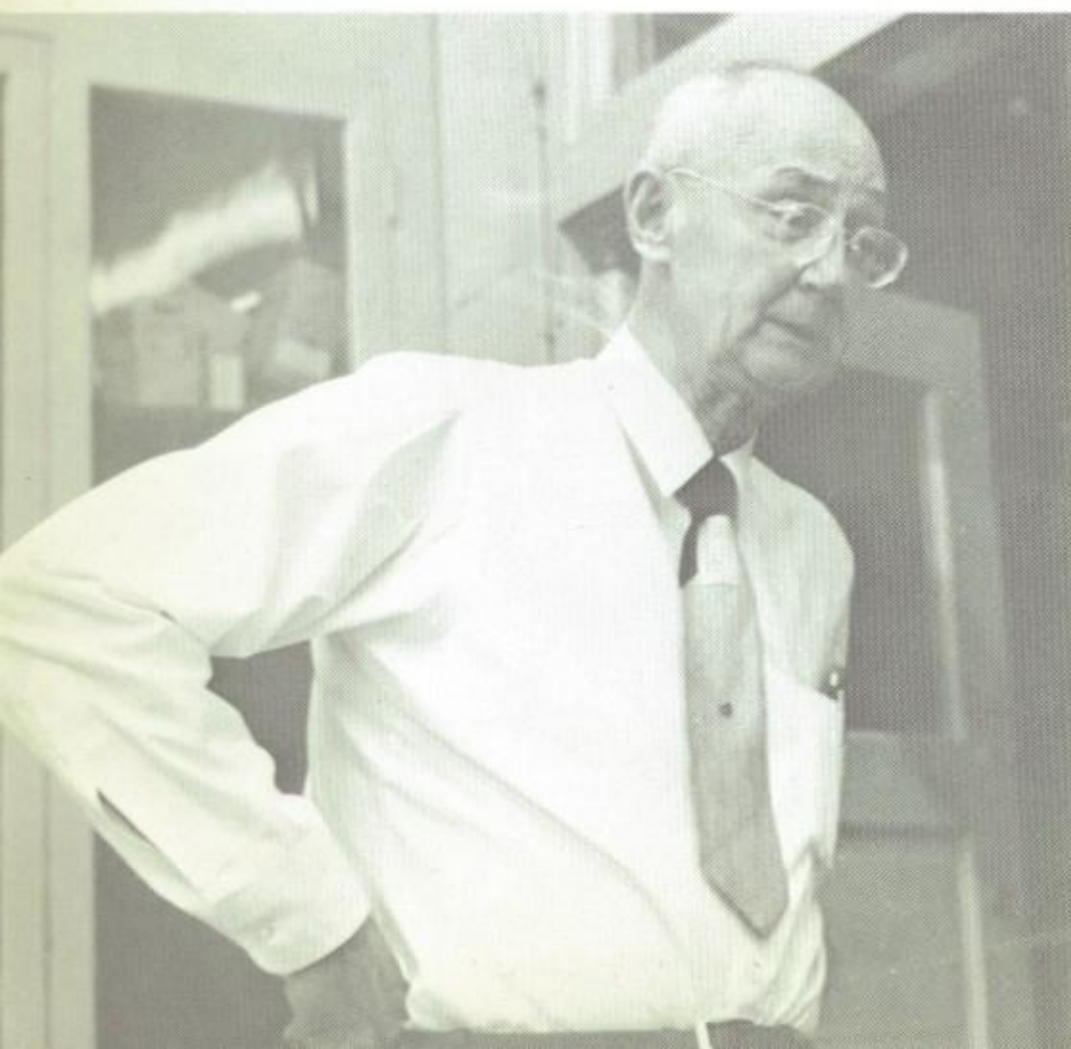

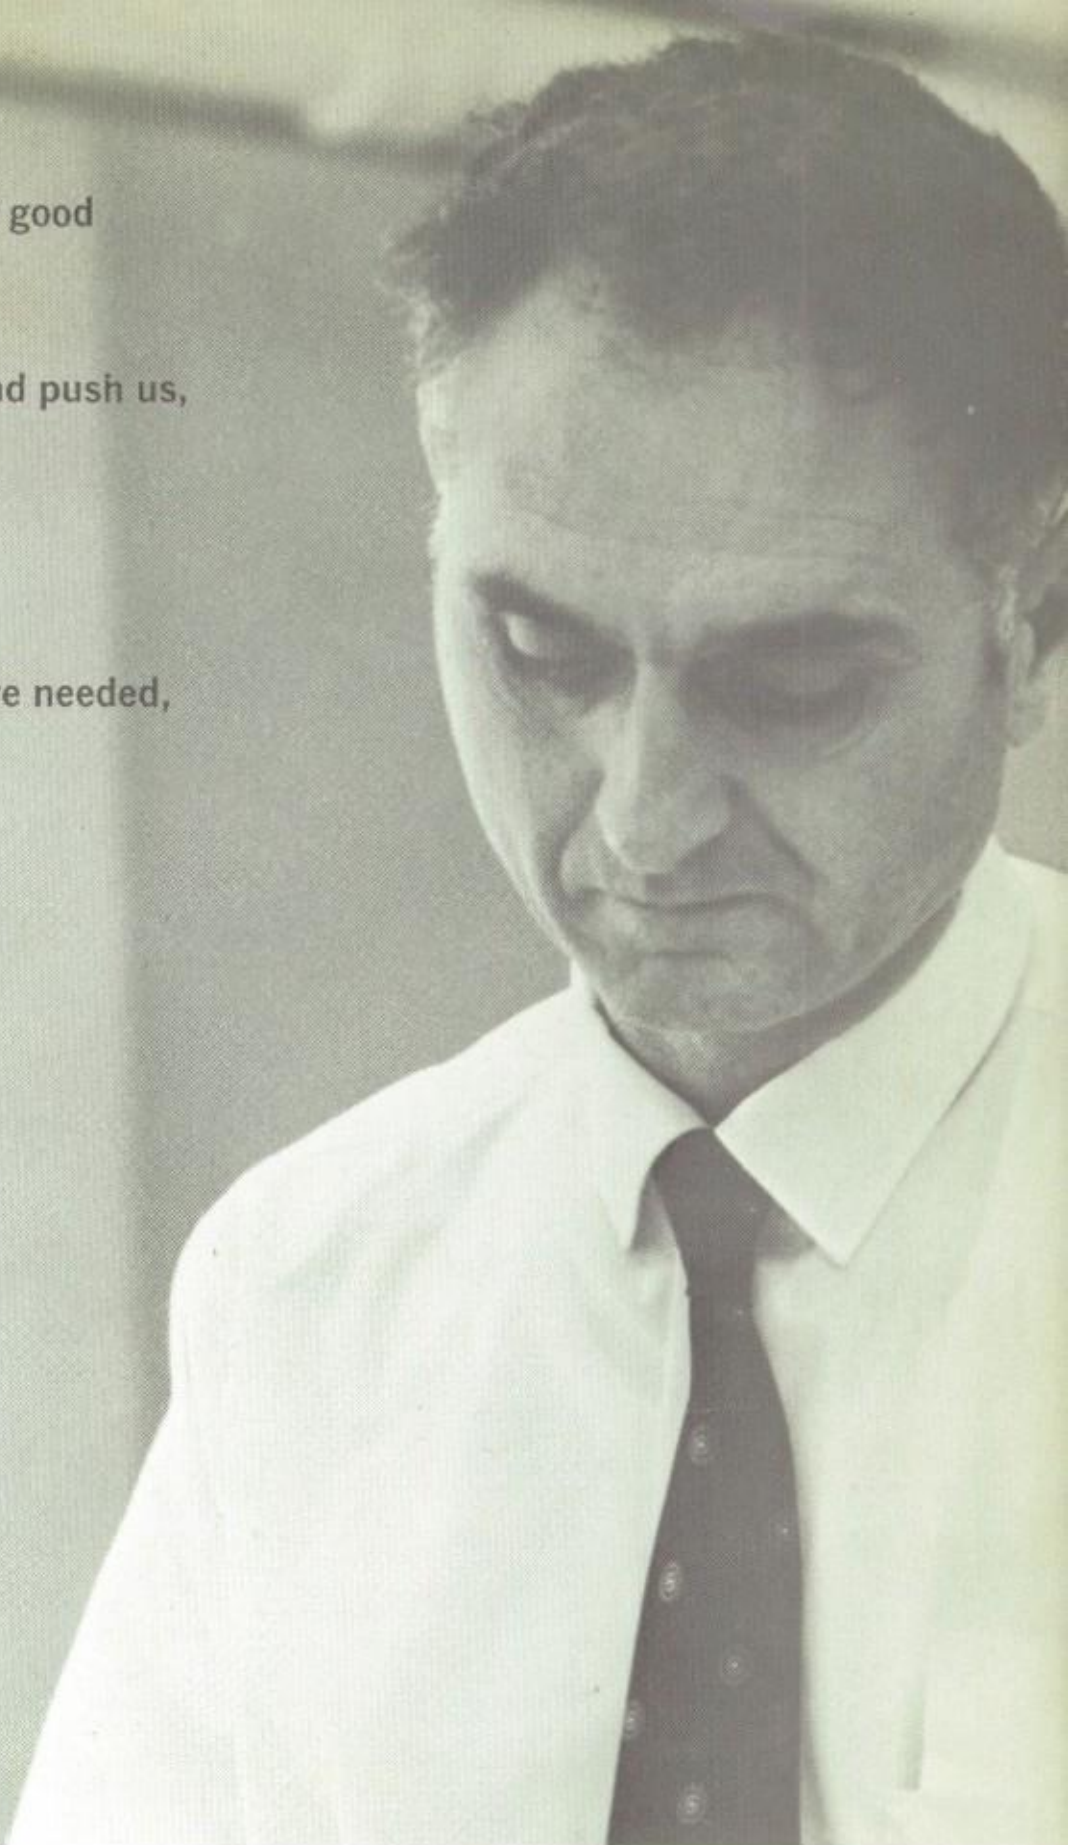

Confucius said,
"A teacher is but a man who tries to bring out the good and remedy the weaknesses of his students."

Our teachers who disagree with us, who lecture and push us, and who give us wanted and unwanted advice,
Our teachers who never give us up for lost, affirm that each of us is of value.

Here, we affirm that they are of value, that they are needed, that they are real persons.

We dedicate this book

TO OUR TEACHERS

Students Toward Final Goals

The principal and counselors are more familiar with the students' problems, attributes, backgrounds and desires than anyone else. They aid in the selection of future vocations and colleges. Counselors must also make decisions in cases involving discipline as well as give special recognition for a job well done. This close contact gives the counselors and principal the needed insight to work with and for the students.

Studious Atmosphere Provided by Librarians, Study Hall Supervisors

Any remembrance of high school days, and especially Waco High School days, will have to include the office personnel, librarians and study hall supervisors. Arriving at 9:00 on Tuesday morning after a 3-day weekend without a credible note for Mrs. Pyles; having to pay for a lost library book which "wasn't any good anyhow"; scheming half an hour to escape from study hall and then really having to use the restroom but getting Miss Grant's refusal: situations of this kind will become some of the "golden" memories of high school days. But memories of the office personnel, librarians and study hall supervisors will also include the friendliness, consideration and dedication they have displayed.

Students Learn Fundamentals in English

In many respects, the English department of any high school is considered to be the most vital. Every aspect of life has some relation to various English courses.

As well as grammar and literature, the English department offers reading improvement, a course in humanities, Southwestern culture and sponsors the English Literary Society. Our English department has one new teacher this year, Mrs. Judy Freeman, who teaches reading improvement.

TOP: Along with Mrs. Dawson, Mrs. Howard originated an alternate senior English course. This course consists of a semester of Southwestern literature and a semester of humanities. Mrs. Howard teaches humanities (a free-moving study of literature, art, and architecture of various periods).

Mathematical Problems Probe Our Curiosity

Mathematics is more than just addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division. This department of WHS prefers a wide variety of courses, ranging from related math to college algebra. The curriculum is designed to provide a study of material necessary for college work as well as everyday life. Mr. Mitchell teaches courses in consumer math for those who would like to go into business. Mr. Baker, a mathematics teacher, is also the principal of night school which is held in WHS's building.

TOP: Sophomores finally learn decimal division under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Morgan.

B. LEFT: "I know cosines will have no vital effect on your life but learn them," says Mr. Lawhon.

Science Provides an Awareness of Man

Whether dissecting a frog or making hydrogen sulfide, science students are constantly exploring. One of the main objectives of this department is to teach its students to research the whys and wherefores of scientific situations. Mr. Barnett joined our science teaching staff this year.

P.E. Develops Physical Potential

1-2-3-1! 1-2-3-2! 1-2-3-3! 1-2-3-4!

The Physical Education department seeks to develop the body just as the academic teachers try to develop the mind. The curriculum of this department includes not only regular gym classes, but a wide variety of sports from swimming to bowling to archery.

One of our new body builders this year is Mrs. Creech who teaches junior and sophomore girls gym. Mrs. Dodgen's girls worked on the exer-genies for the first time this year also.

TOP: Mr. Gardner as our head football coach speaks to our fighting Tigers at the annual football banquet.

Musical Skills Taught with Enthusiasm

The music department is one of the hardest working and most fun-loving groups in the school. The marching Tiger band starts practice during the summer so that they are near perfection when September comes. There is also a band class for beginners or those working their way into the marching band. The band participates in the University Interscholastic League contest every year.

Mr. Randy Lofgren, who enjoys contemporary music almost as much as his students, directs music-making at WHS. Besides working with the Regit Singers and a chorus class preparing themselves for choir membership, Mr. Lofgren selects the best singers to participate in Golden Voices. This March Golden Voices is producing an LP record of pop music. The Golden Voices are also planning a tour to Mexico in the spring.

Students Train for Industry

Preparation for life in our industrial world is a vital part of the industrial arts program. The courses offered by this department are designed to train young people to make further progress in industrial work.

The various shops enable students to gain experience in such areas as printing, woodworking, metal-working, mechanical drawing, and electricity.

TOP: Pop Werner teaches boys how to work with metal for possible future vocations and present enjoyment.

Art and Homemaking Prepare for Future Tasks

The Homemaking department prepares girls for their biggest job in life, that of being a mother and homemaker. The homemaking curriculum includes courses in sewing, cooking, home and family living and home management.

Mrs. McHam and the art department have helped to add color to WHS throughout the year. The art students have been responsible for bringing the Homecoming theme to life with their art crafts on the zodiac.

Journalism, Speech Teach Students Self-Expression

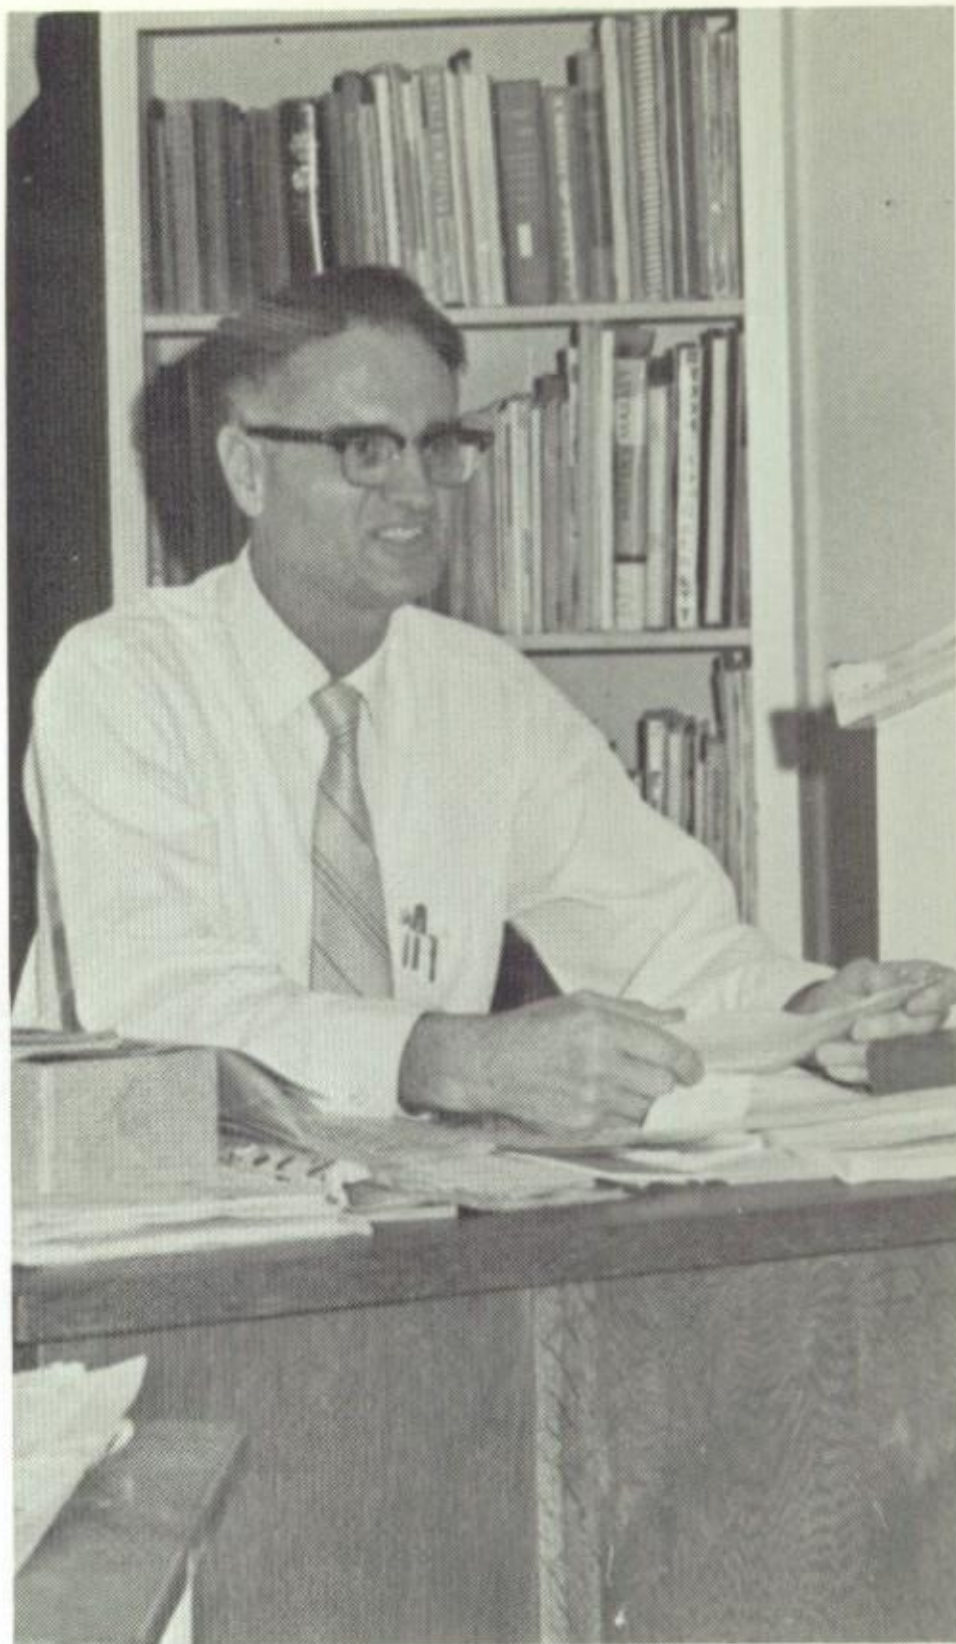

Journalism requires a special dedication...especially to the quest for truth. This year four journalism classes and an industrious DAISY CHAIN staff have been putting a lot of that special devotion into truthfully representing student life at Waco High. But journalism is not all work, work, work. One of the sweetest rewards of being a journalism student in 1969-70 was the opportunity to visit the campuses of SMU, the University of Texas, and Baylor on their respective "journalism" days.

Neither has the speech department been sleeping, especially since vivacious Mrs. Lawrence Canning has joined the staff. Under her direction, students applied their speech skills to some "drama-in-the-park" this spring. Keeping a dash of the old in with the new, speech students co-hosted the 36th annual Baylor-Waco speech tournament in February. Earlier in the year, the speech department entertained the school and the community with a praise-deserving performance of "Black Comedy".

Foreign Languages: Path to World Unity

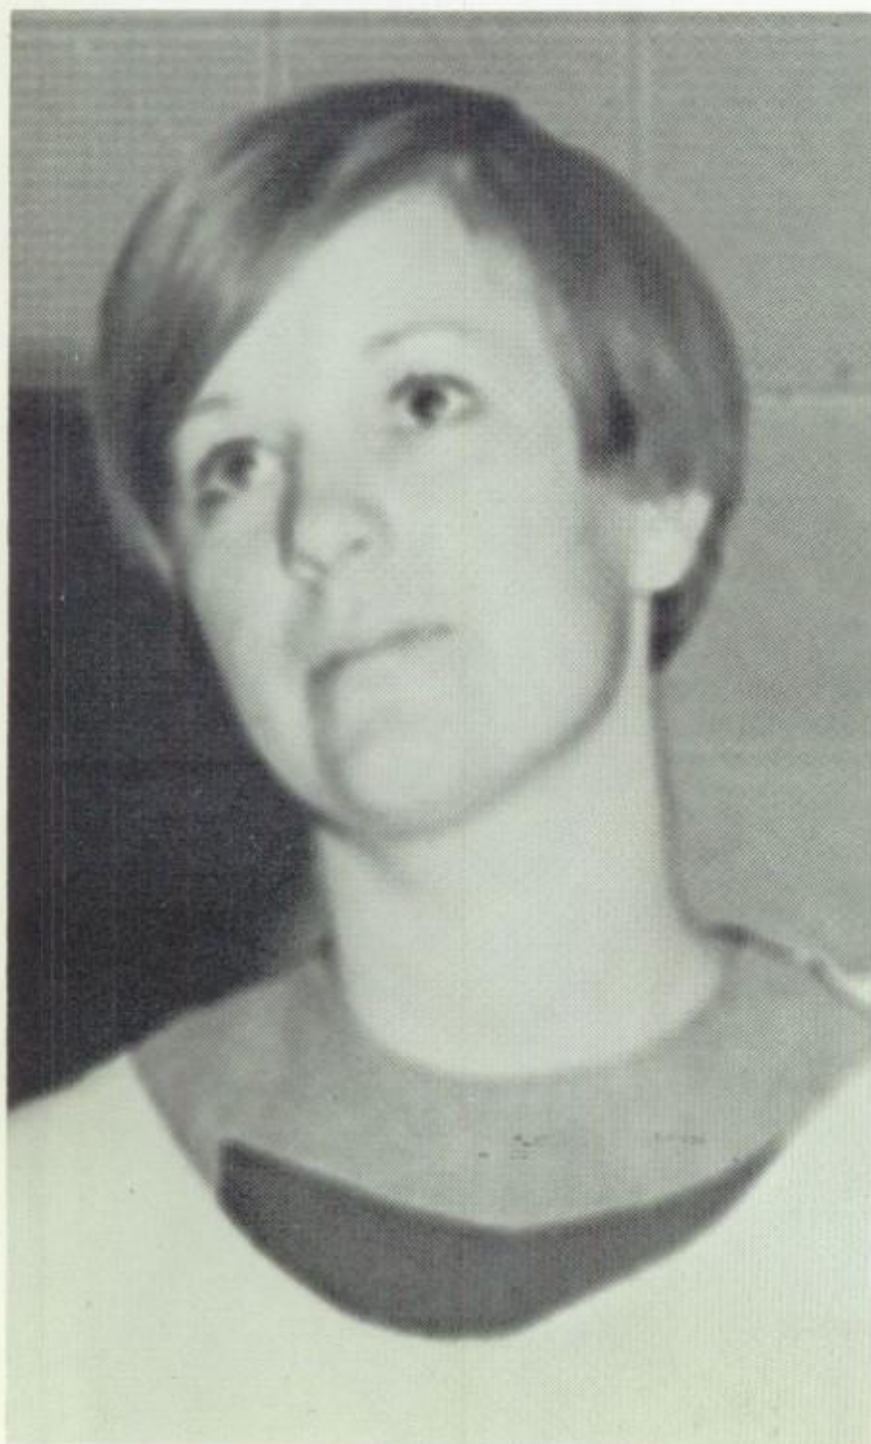

Espanol? Deutsch? Latina?

WHS students are given the opportunity to study any of these languages. The students study grammar and culture, read novels, and plays, and even learn songs. The Spanish students will remember their fiesta parties and songs for years to come and the Latin victims will hold Julius Caesar close to their hearts forevermore.

The language department sponsors such activities as the Pan American Student Forum and Junior Classical League. Miss Carolyn Blythe, a new graduate from Baylor, joined this department to teach Latin this year.

Business Skills Emphasized

WHS's business department teaches its students the elements of skill, reasoning, and ability, and prepares them to meet the challenges of their occupations.

With courses ranging from typing to business law, the department also attempts to provide the basic experience needed for college study. Miss Burns is a new addition to our business arts teaching staff this year.

Past Lessons Prepare Students for Future

While students were demonstrating at Berkeley, rioting at Columbia, and protesting in Chicago. . . Waco High students were learning the processes which make a democratic society function through studies of government and history.

Headliners on the social studies staff include Miss Sadie Connor, Mr. Joe Flood, Mr. Bill Hunter and Mr. R. B. Keithly.

The 1969-70 school year supplied plenty of controversial world, national, and local events to keep things very interesting. Most male students will remember this year as the beginning of the fate-deciding draft lottery. The female block will be more likely to dub 1970 as "the year we wore slacks to class".

D.E., Drivers' Ed. Teach Practical Skills

Getting to know the public is part of the on-the-job training the distributive education course offers. "Earn while you learn" is the motto of these earnest students. They go to classes for half a day and work half a day in an attempt to prepare for the "real world". Senior, Larry Walpole placed first in the advertising competition at Area V Distributive Education Clubs of America annual conference in Austin. Every month the students in the WHS D. E. Club choose two students as D. E.'er of the month on the basis of their good work and grades.

Drivers education teaches students skill and safety techniques behind the wheel. Mr. Kenneth Clark, who spices up his classroom sessions with football tales, sits in the suicide seat with many a learning driver. Would-be drivers from all over Waco attend summer lessons to earn a key to the family car.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Autumn Finds Tigers Filled With Spirit

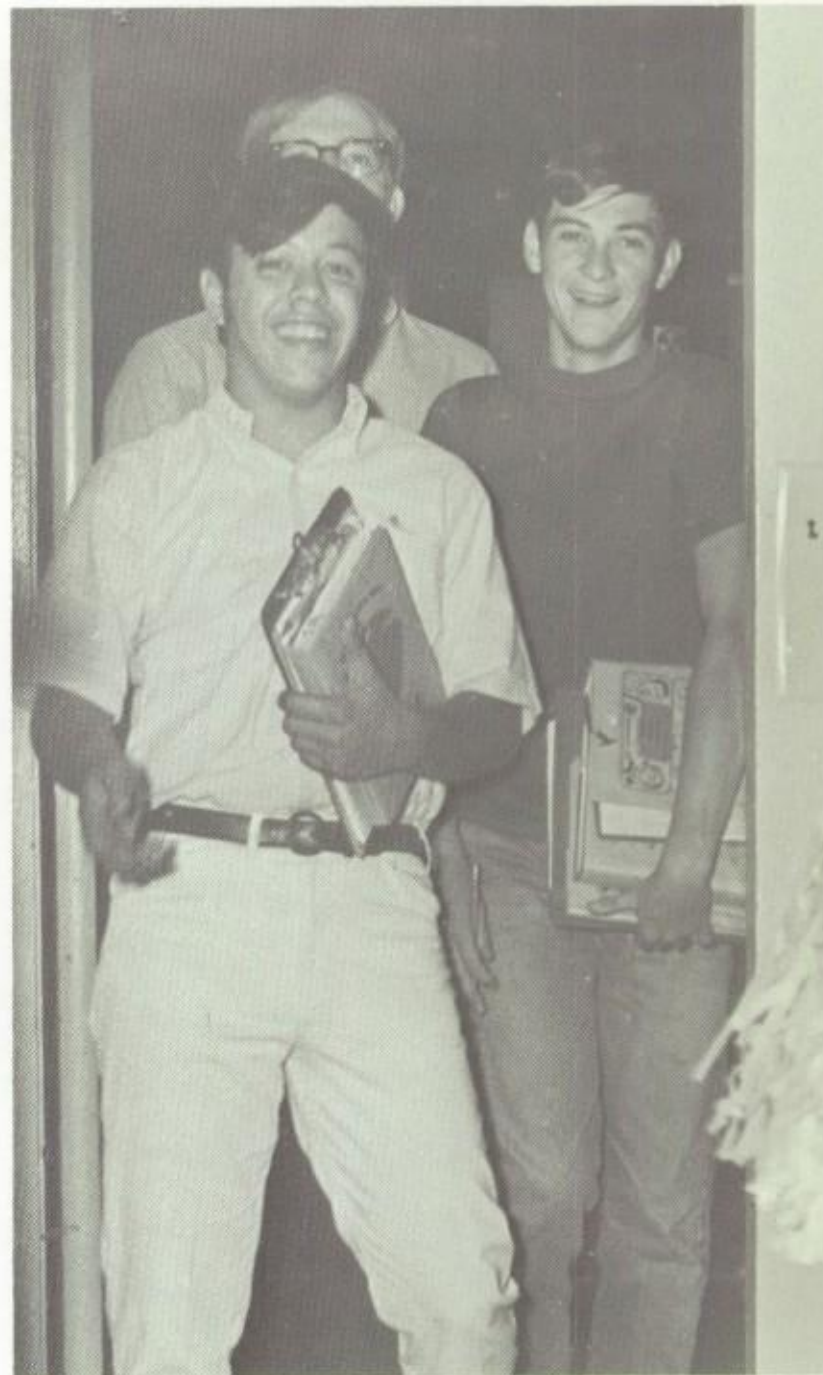

Fall. . . the weather is still warm, the summer memories still vivid. Yet, something is different. We have to with-draw from the depths of a summer filled with sun, water, play and work to bring ourselves once again to a world of four walls, teachers, books and school. *

For Seniors there is joy mixed with anxiety over their final year. Juniors are glad to no longer be the underdogs as they travel the road to seniority. Sophomores arrive excited and confused to take their place in the new a n d challenging world of high school.

T.RIGHT: Not every day began so well, but Ines Arriola, Jerry Hill and Gary Newton found at least one that did.

BOTTOM: Sarah Russell and Dora Fernandez take a few moments breather before the band reassembles.

RIGHT: Frances Raborn wonders if there is really a chance that there will be a test tomorrow.

T. SERIES: Teachers directed, participated in and enjoyed the assemblies as much as the students.

T. RIGHT: During the televised assembly, Cindy Low and Bill Craig represented the journalism department.

B. RIGHT: Senior class president Dennis Baier listens attentively as the prizes for the senior magazine drive are described.

Assemblies Involve the Talents of Many

Fall passes quickly as we find ourselves involved. It is a time to learn about ourselves, each other, and the world. It is a time to become part of Waco High--to serve, to learn, to enjoy, to live.

As the fall slips by, we remember the football team which was still tops to us despite it all, the dances, the Thanksgiving baskets and the many cans of food, and those who were honored.

We become a team. Yet, within the teamwork of our school we find reflections of ourselves as the year moves steadily along. We work together to make a better team and we find our lives touched by every other member of our team, just as we touched the lives of our teammates. Suddenly, though, as our team pulls together, we notice that we have been drawn into winter.

T. LEFT: Assemblies take practice, and sometimes that means giving up personal time as Paulette Riddle discovered.

BOTTOM: Taking time from the regular school day's activities, Robert English, Alex Salinas and Ken Pierce assist in the delivery of the Thanksgiving baskets.

Homecoming Brings an "Age of Aquarius"

Halls are filled with laughter, excitement hangs from everywhere and the old mixes with the new as Homecoming takes place. The ex-students are honored with a tea and a special assembly is presented. This year's special honorees were the graduates of the years 1910, 1920, 1930, 1940, 1950, 1960, and the 1970 spring graduates. The day's events are climaxed with the homecoming football game and the crowning of the queen and her court.

Winter Ushers In Activities Galore

Winter. . .it comes suddenly upon us and we find ourselves wondering what happened to fall. Football gives way to basketball, speech tournaments and plays. Mid term exams loom overhead as we try to resolve the many long days of school in the two short weeks allowed for Christmas. A new semester begins and brings new changes. For the first time seniors could be exempt from some mid term exams; and girls were allowed to wear slacks on those extra cold days. And winter slides on.

T. LEFT: Holding their own at the Information Desk on Baylor-Waco Day, Brenda Kimbrough and Bob McGregor wonder how many more people will ask where the elevator is.

T. RIGHT: Mary Higgs stares in disbelief when she is handed another stack of results to tabulate from the speech tournament activities.

BOTTOM: The Christmas tree winked brightly at those who passed down the front hall.

TOP: Miss Furnival (Ruby Galloway) and Harold (Ken Savoy) listen while Clea (Debbie Zimmerman) plays havoc with her former lover's new romance in the play "Black Comedy."

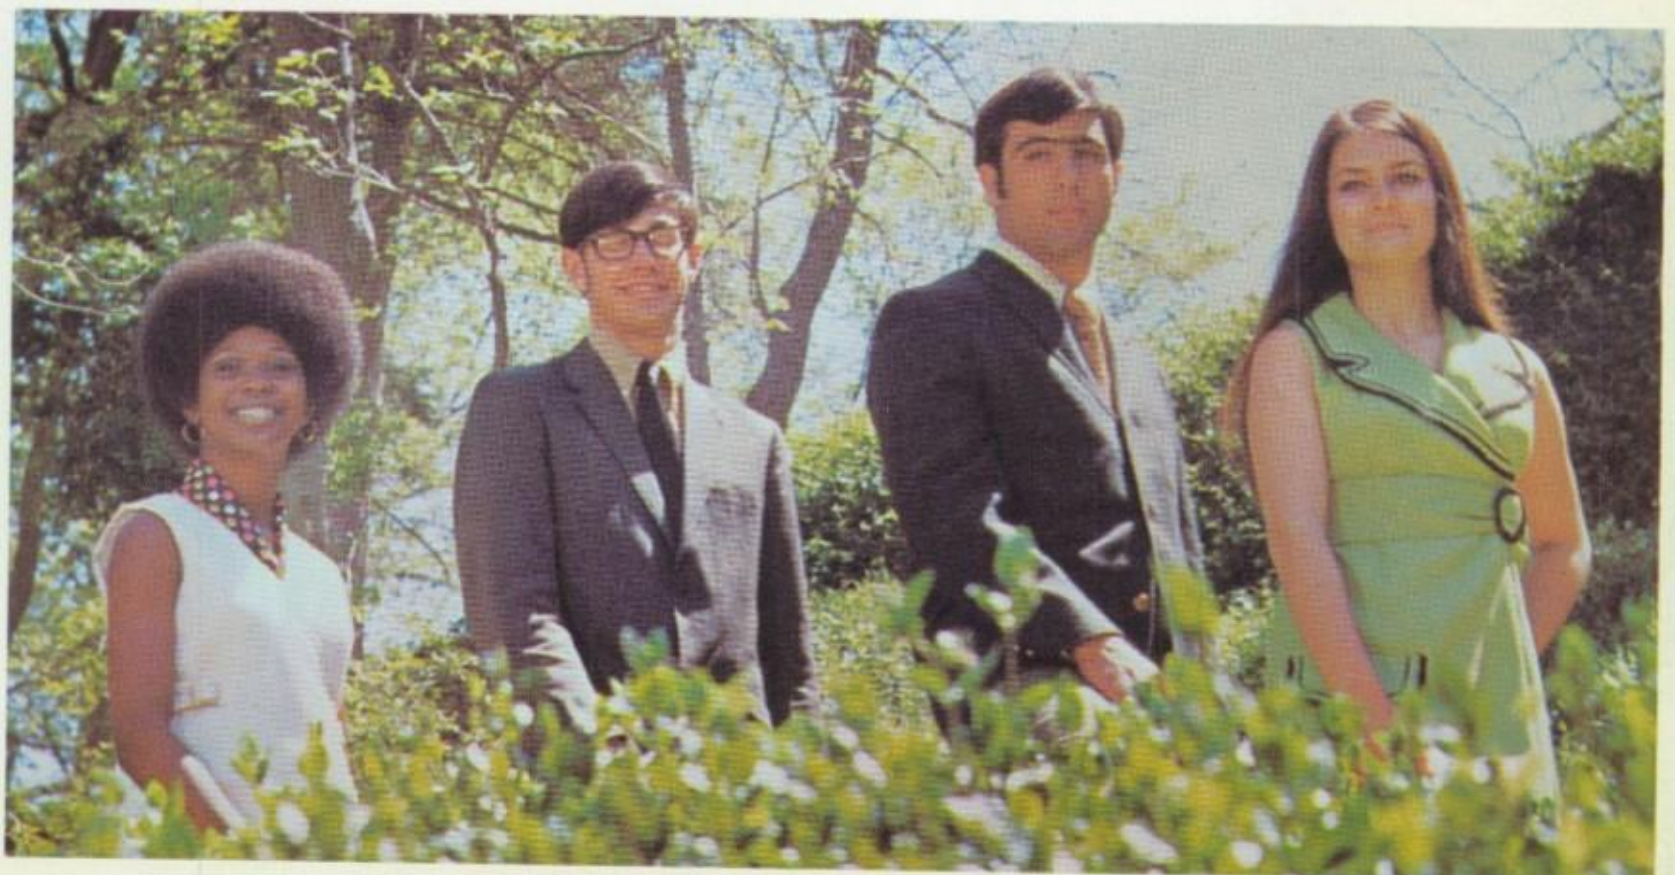

BOTTOM: Members of seventh period speech watch as Terri Crawford (Jill in "Once Upon a Playground") practices for the one-act play contest.

Senior Class Honors Special Favorites

Each year the Senior class selects students who are special among the class members to receive the honor of being Senior Favorites. This year's Senior Favorites are Jennifer Ross, Dennis Baier, Johnny Stephens, Carey Cobb, Mary Jane Bailey, Kay Clayton and (seated) Lewis Anne Cox. Also chosen as a Favorite but not shown is Trey Gerdes. ,

Other nominees for this honor were (top picture) Linda Watson, Larry Blount, Karen Groppe and Roy Crook, (bottom picture) Kay Williams, Gary Keith, Steve Khoury and Rita Wood.

'Annihilate but space...

And make two lovers happy'

Alexander Pope

Not everyone is lucky enough to have his or her sweetheart attending the same school; but, as Valentine's Day arrives and fancies begin to turn toward spring and love, the student body takes time to honor one of its many couples.

Charlie Parmes and Virginia Daniels, both seniors, are recognized members of the school. Charlie is president of the Student Officials, cartoonist for the WACOAN and a football captain. Virginia is treasurer of the Nike Club and a "one-girl pep rally."

Charlie and Virginia have been dating for more than two years. On their first date the couple visited Jacob's Ladder in Cameron Park where the above picture was made.

Spring Fever Dominates Elections and Fun

Spring. . .and everyone begins looking toward May. This season is a busy one. Corrigan Weekend occurs again; elections are held for cheerleaders, the Most Representative students and Senior Favorites. A second look is made at grades, especially by the seniors. The days are beginning to warm up after a wet cold winter and we begin to get the "fever" for school to end.

RIGHT: Representing Waco High in the T. V. Challenge program are (standing) Gary Keith, Clay Reed, Barry Berndt, (seated) Peter Kultgen and Larry Blount.

School Ends in Hectic Fun for Class of '70

When seniors have ordered their invitations and recognition day is a thing of the past, it suddenly dawns on us how little time is left and how filled with activities it will be.

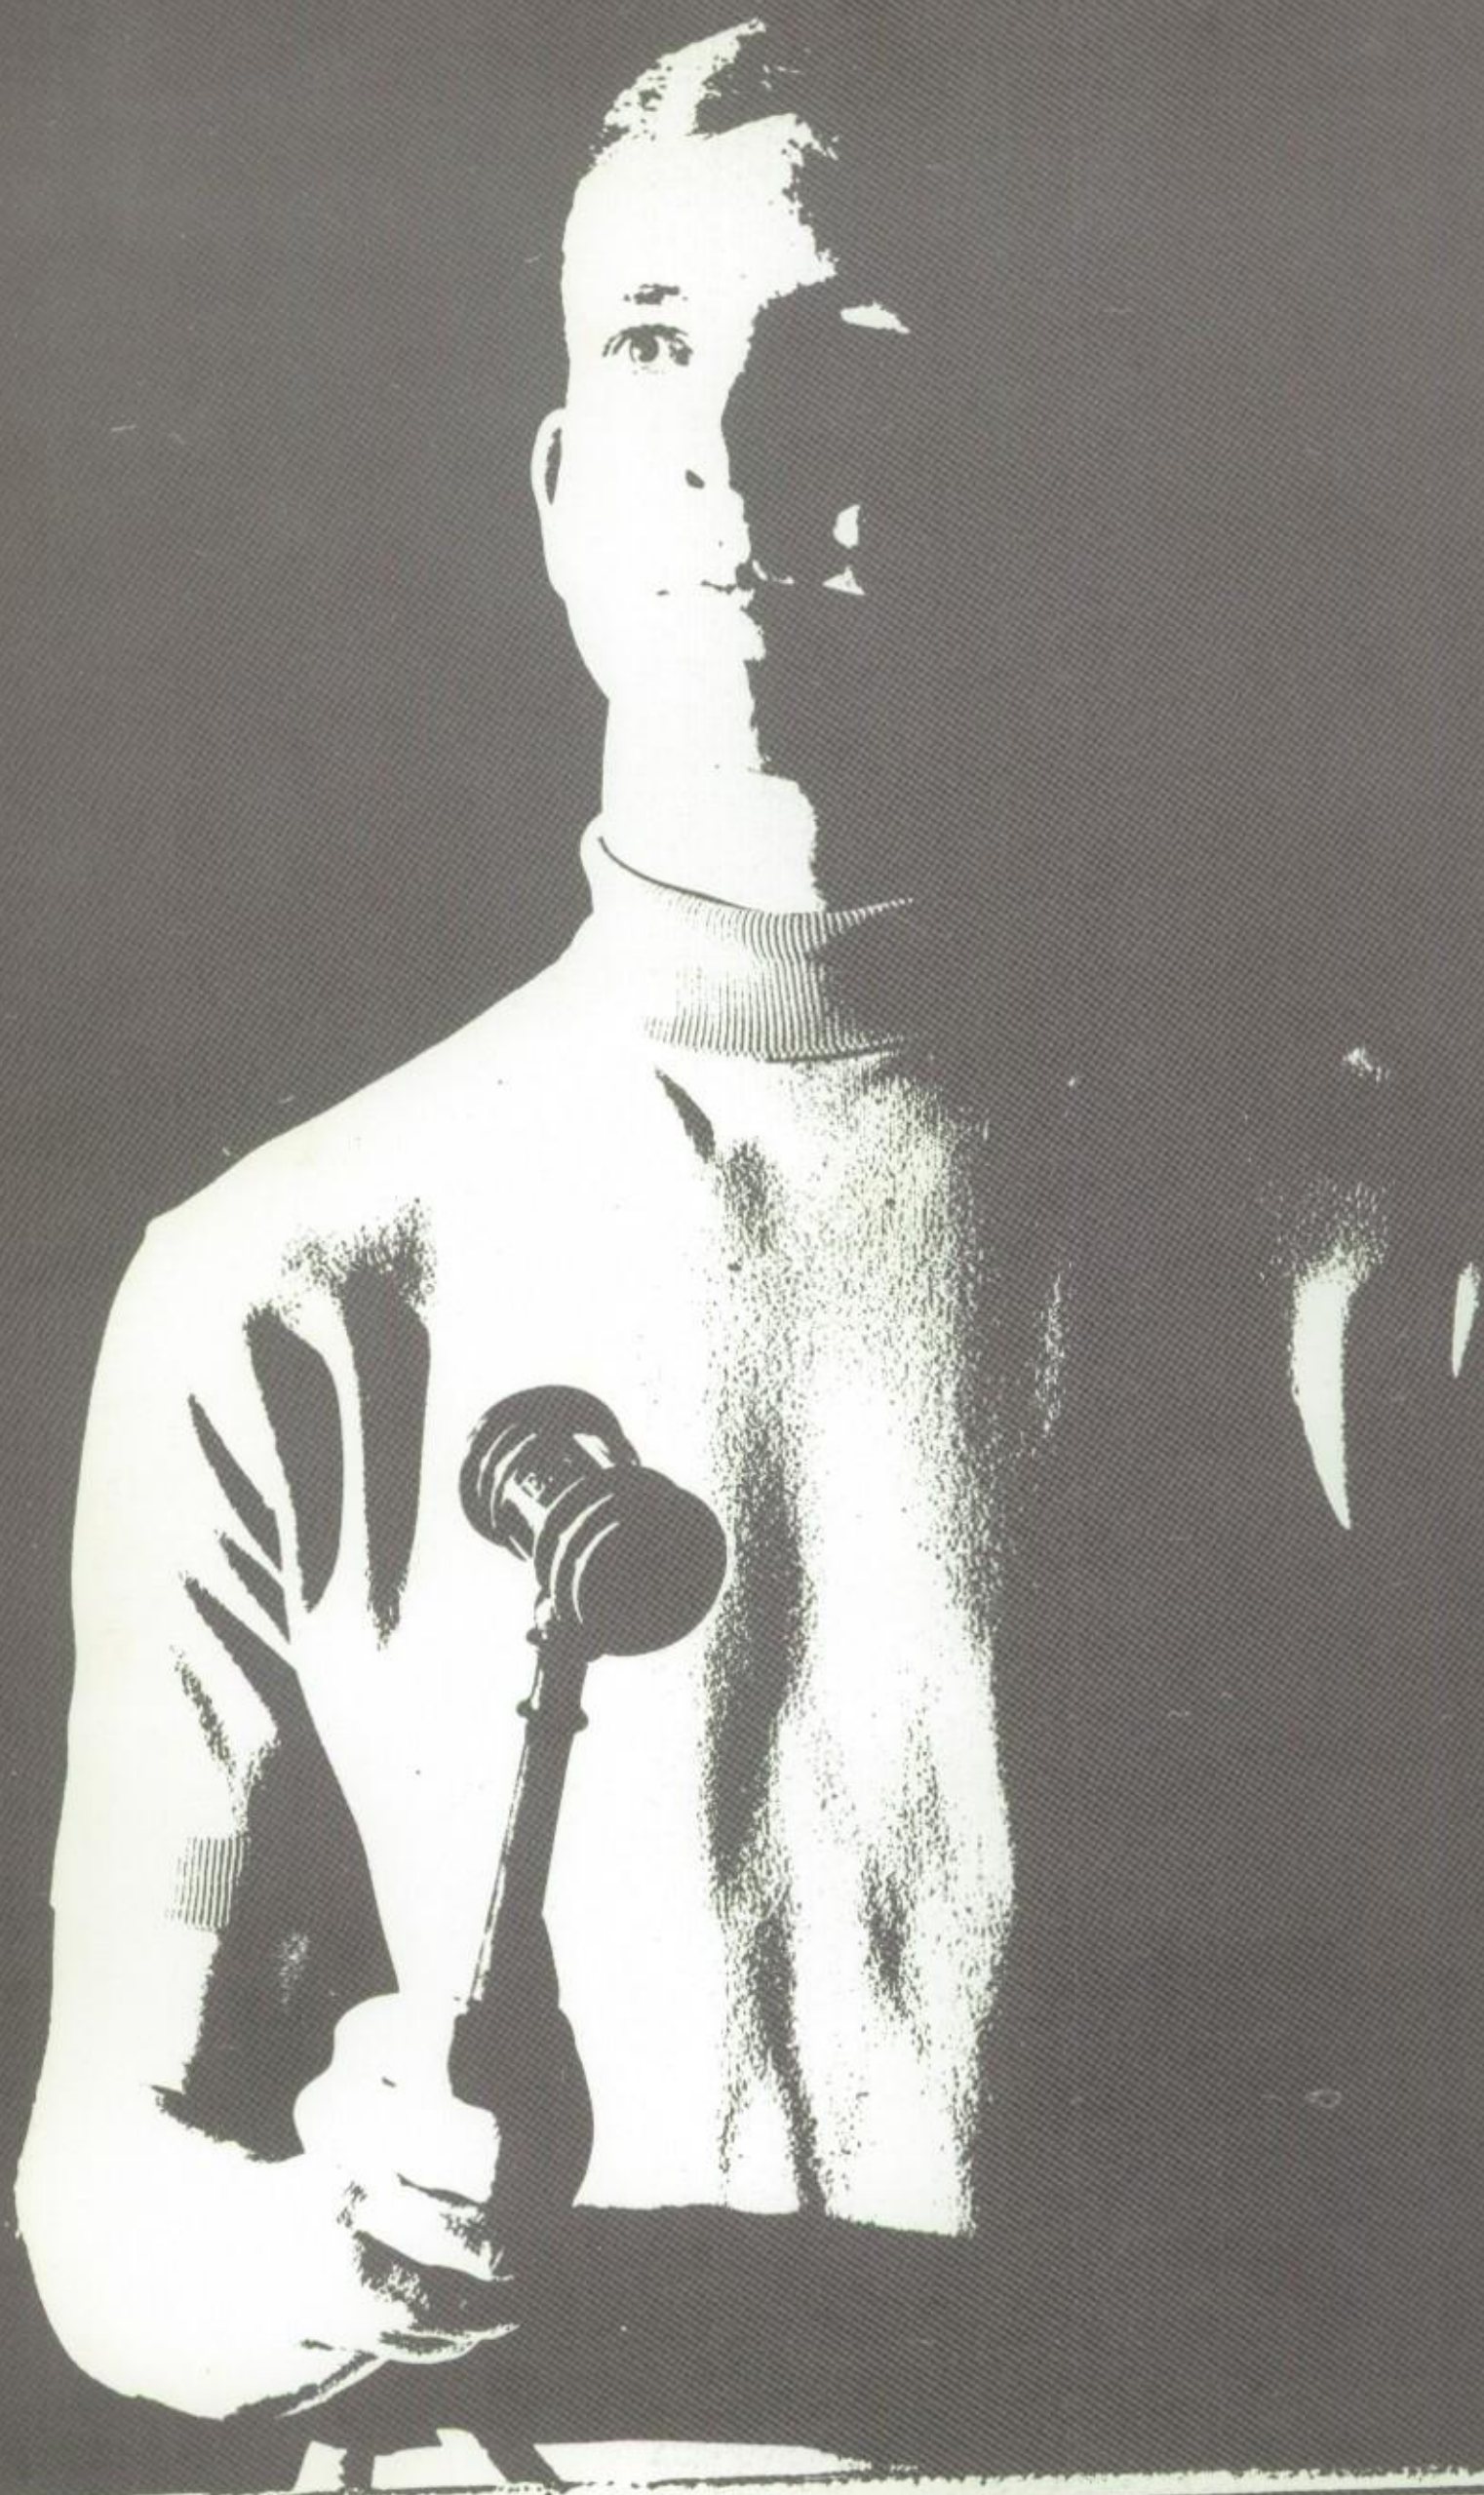

Senior Recognition Day was held on April 2. The skit "There's No Business Like School Business" was a pun on teachers, the building and growing up in school. The picnic held in Cameron Park was fun for all who attended as they practiced the great arts of sack racing, egg tossing and twirling a bat on the nose. Of course, the next day meant some sore muscles and a little sun burn.

Then came the final weeks full of things like applying for scholarships, worrying over grades, the prom, sending out invitations, trying on gowns and practicing for the big moment—graduation.

It has all been fun, not only the last year but even from the first. And when the Class of '70 looks back, the good times will stand out.

Tiger Band Practices Long Hours

"The pride of WHS," as our band has often been called, is one of the most important representatives of the school. The band backs the cheerleaders during pep-rallies, rouses school spirit with fighting-Tiger songs, leads the school in "Spirit of Waco" and entertains the student body.

Band members attend most athletic events, in or out of town, backing the Tigers. A band council, headed by the drum major, Karen Groppe, plans all band activities. The council is made up of two representatives, a boy and a girl, from each class. Representing the sophomores are Melissa Moody and Albert Aquilar; from the junior class, representatives are Charlotte Smith and Bob Riddlehuber; and the seniors are represented by Naomi Mangum and Charles Turner.

Band director Richard Perot deserves a round of applause for the success of the Tiger Band. His long hours of coaching and love of fine band music have helped the band's quality immeasurably.

Student Government Sponsors Elections, Assemblies, Activities

The student government concerns itself with improving the school and improving its standards. Among other projects, it sponsors the election of the Homecoming Queen and the Homecoming program, and certain other assemblies and contests. The poll tax drive each semester provides the government's sole source of income.

The student government is presided over by five commissioners who are elected in the fall to serve the next spring and the fall of the following year, and three are elected in the spring to serve the next school year. Handling the election in this manner assures the presence of at least two experienced commissioners in the government at all times.

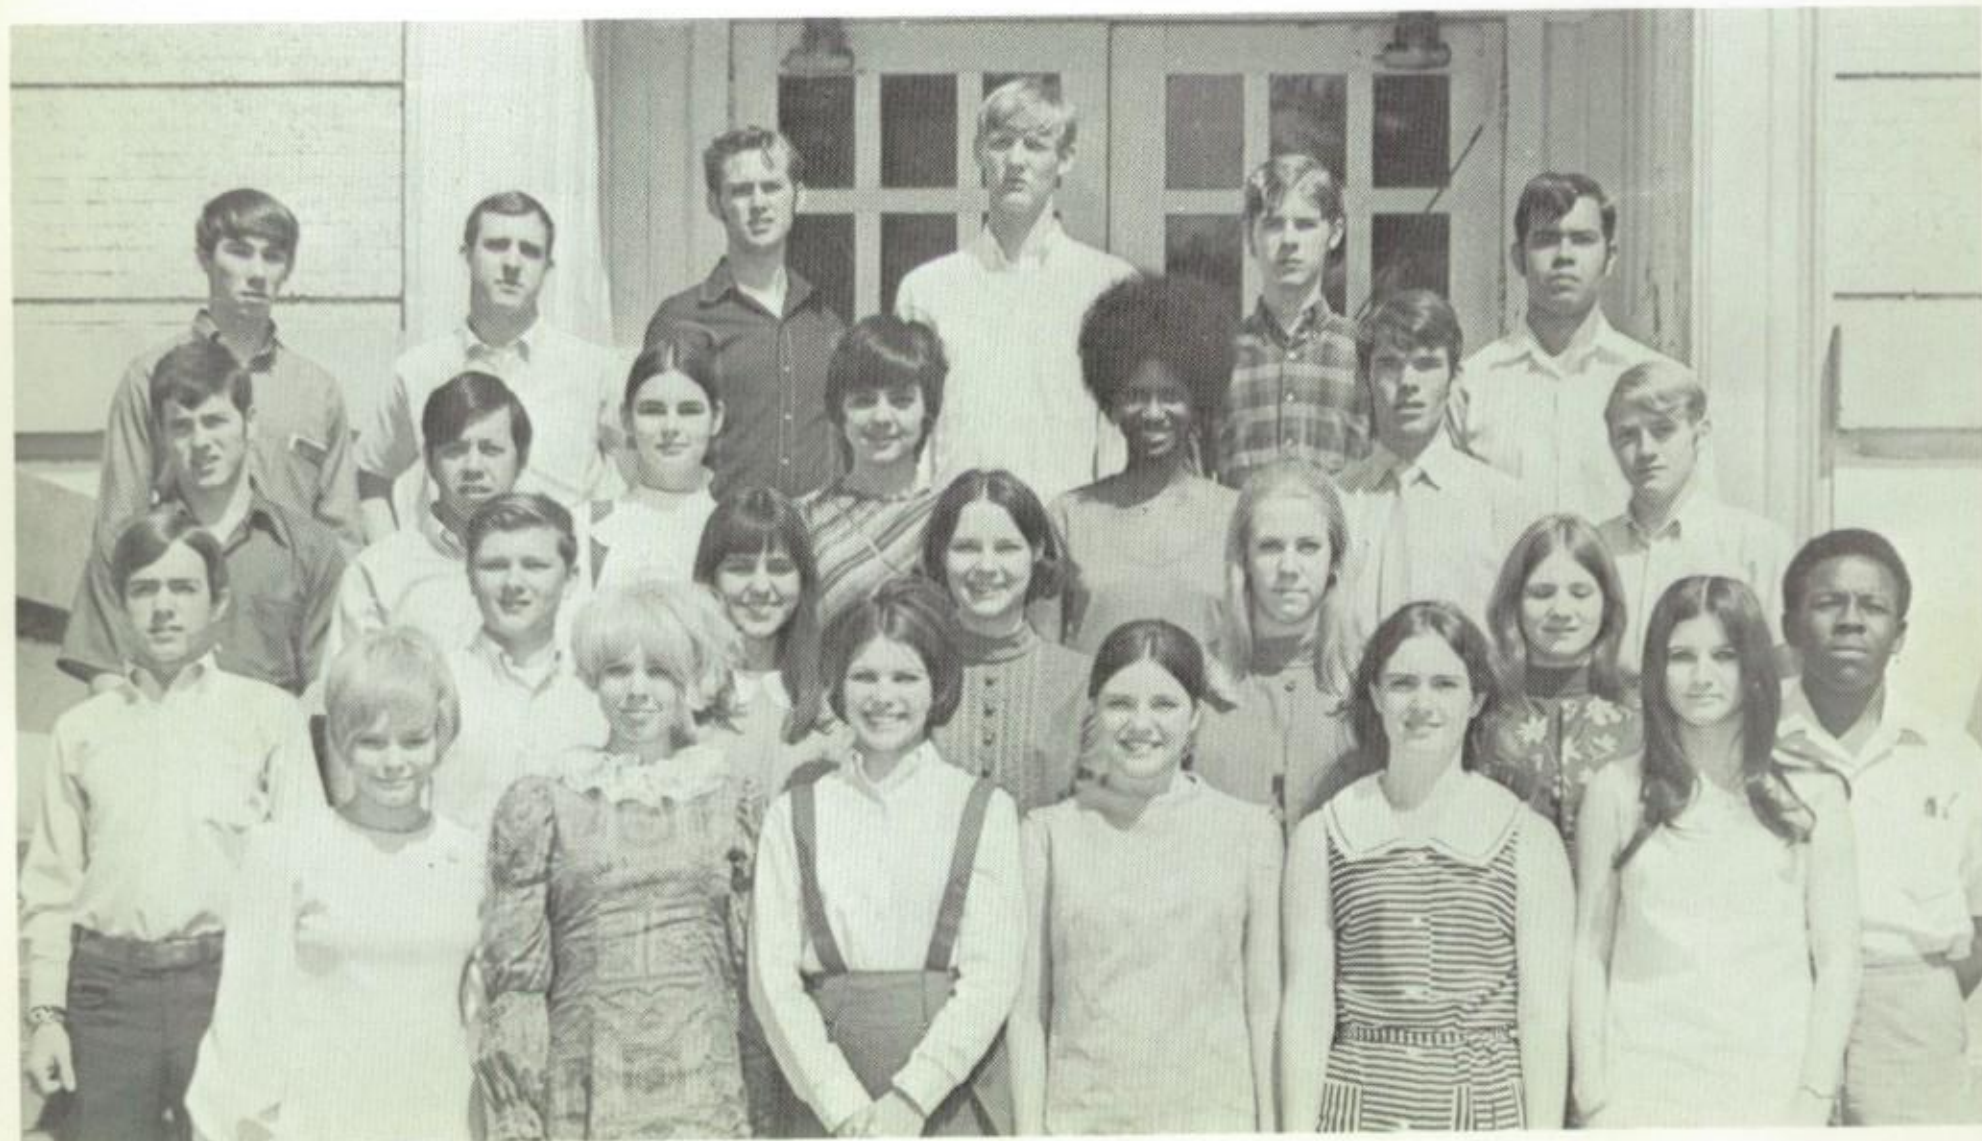

The Spring Commissioners are G. Keith, C. Reed, F. Tindle, B. McGregor, R. Atkinson.

Leadership of School Depends Upon NHS Members Participation

The National Honor Society's purpose is to further education. To become a member a student must be active in school activities, be of good moral character, and have an overall 3.7 average. The members are often called upon to tutor other students.

Students and faculty enjoy the thrilling tricycle race, an annual money-making project sponsored by NHS. And, as usual, it was a complete success.

The National Beta Club, a non-secret leadership organization, was founded in 1933 for the purpose of stimulating effort, rewarding achievements and encouraging its members to continue their education after high school.

The 57 fall members planned Homecoming. They were responsible for refreshments and for greeting the ex-Tigers.

Qualifications for N.B.C. include worthy character, good mentality, creditable achievements and commendable attitude. Prospective members are approved by Mrs. Dorothy Morrow, club sponsor; Miss Grace Hamilton, girls' councilor; and Mr. W. E. Weathers, principal.

Among the Beta members participating in Homecoming activities are seated; S. Holcomb, N. Turner, standing; M. Bailey, M. Hopkins.

A member must have an A average in English and maintain a B grade average in all other classes. He also must obtain a recommendation from his English teacher.

Press Club Attends Baylor Journalism Day

The Press Club is made up of over 100 journalism students and the DAISY CHAIN staff members.

On Baylor's annual Journalism Day, held February 27, club members went to Baylor to compete for various journalistic honors.

Officers for the Central Texas Interscholastic Press Club are elected that same day. Bill Craig, senior, served as president for the 1969-70 school year.

First School Paper Called DAISY CHAIN

The WACOAN was started in 1923. It was first called the DAISY CHAIN which was published weekly by the seniors. It contained mostly social news and editorials.

Then in 1929 the name was changed from DAISY CHAIN to the HUACOAN. This was picked in honor of the Indians which were supposed to have camped on the WHS campus. During the years as the HUACOAN, our paper received superior ratings.

Finally in 1941 the name was changed to the present day WACOAN. Along with its name, its style was changed thus more nearly resembling a daily newspaper.

WACOAN Enlarges Staff, Paper, Profit

Under a new system initiated by Mr. Francis, all journalism students are given the opportunity to work on the WACOAN staff. In previous semesters the editorial staff was chosen from an elite group of experienced students.

This Spring's staff was handled somewhat differently. Instead of choosing one staff for all issues, Mr. Francis formed an editorial staff from each journalism class. Each class was responsible for two papers.

Though the editor-in-chief makes preliminary decisions, the WACOAN goes to Mr. Francis before it goes to the press.

DAISY CHAIN Staff

'Do Their Thing'

Perhaps one of the best promoters of Waco High tradition is its yearbook, the DAISY CHAIN. The original DAISY CHAIN, first published in the late 1800's, was more of a senior remembrance. It was the earliest school publication in the state to resemble a yearbook.

This 69th volume of the DAISY CHAIN is the only yearbook in the state not printed by a large yearbook publishing firm. Using local engravers and printers, Waco High sidesteps the large publisher and places the responsibility for "camera-ready-layouts" on the students. Yearbook staff members take, develop and print all pictures; write and compose all copy; write all headlines; and totally pasteup all layouts. Although this method of making a yearbook is much more difficult, the staff members gain valuable experience in the fields of journalism, photography and printing.

NUNC ET TUNC

Reaches 46th Year

As the oldest high school Latin publication in the U.S., Nunc et Tunc, now in its forty-sixth year, has gained a place of national recognition and prestige. In keeping with its name, (translated "Now and Then") Nunc et Tunc contains articles of lasting-value about the bygone days of Greece and Rome and of the overtones of antiquity in modern society.

J.C.L. and the Latin Department co-sponsor Nunc et Tunc which is published four times a year. All articles contributed to the magazine are written outside class.

Oldest Texas J.C.L. Is Still Going Strong

The Waco High Chapter of the Junior Classical League, an organization which promotes the study of Latin, was established in 1940. The WHS Chapter called the first state convention, established the state J. C. L., and produced the first state president. It also founded "The Torch", state J. C. L. newspaper. This year's Editor-in-chief of "The Torch" is Cheryl Cobb, senior. The W. H. S. chapter of J. C. L. has held this state honor successfully for five consecutive years. The 1970-71 "Torch" editor is Cheryl Harper, now a junior.

Spanish Students of Waco High hold a monthly Pan American Student forum in class. This is made possible for those students who are unable to attend the Wednesday club. The club is sponsored by the Good Neighbor Commission of Texas and is affiliated with the state organization. Official newspaper of the organization is titled Pan Am. Times.

In this club, the fiesta spirit always prevails. Each month the classes plan a program. El dia de la Rza or Columbus Day, is the October theme; and December brings a fiesta with pinata included. Spring months bring more celebration.

Volunteers Assist Red Cross Projects

Most people consider towels, soap, toothpaste and burshes ordinary necessities. But to those in underprivileged countries, these items are a luxury that the WHS chapter of the Junior Red Cross helps to provide.

Representatives to Junior Red Cross, sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Nolte, are appointed by their homeroom teachers and meet monthly. Besides collecting supplies for the less fortunate, the organization also encourages participation in local blood drives by students 18 years and older.

A special project in 1969-70 was a relief drive for victims of the flood in Pass Christian, Mississippi. Student donations enabled the WHS chapter to purchase two record players and construction paper for an elementary school in that city.

Students Render Aid To Office Secretaries

To become an office assistant a student must first be willing to give up a study hall period and secondly, maintain an over all grade average of 3.0. This year 27 students have been doing just that to help the overworked Mrs. Betty Gibson and Mrs. Adah Pyles.

An office assistant performs routine tasks such as operating the switchboard, assisting with attendance records, filing and delivering messages.

Besides the routine experience, student assistants gain knowledge of the workings of the school administration.

Future Homemakers of America is a national organization of girls presently or previously enrolled in homemaking courses. Its purpose is to provide for the development of social graces and to promote better home life for its members and their families.

Sponsored by Miss Bobbie Abernathy, the FHA members sold safety kits and cookbooks in the fall to raise money for the annual trip to the state FHA convention in Austin. Members compete for points on selling projects, and the girl with the highest number has her way paid by the funds raised.

Berry, Darden Service Leagues Serve

Berry Service Club has served Waco High and the Waco community since 1954.

Berry participates in many service projects such as the March of Dimes, Muscular Distrophy and many other worthy causes. They sold Homecoming mums and candy for the Girls Service League Scholarship Fund.

The club had both formal and informal initiations for the new initiates and a banquet was held in late spring honoring graduating seniors.

Darden Service Club sponsored by Miss Elizabeth Morgan is the oldest girls service club at Waco High.

During the year the club performs many different services for the school and the community. In February they sold Valentine Corsages, in March they sold candy.

In the community they help collect for the March of Dimes, Muscular Distrophy and the Red Cross. They also help the little kids at the Latin American Center and Jefferson Elementary.

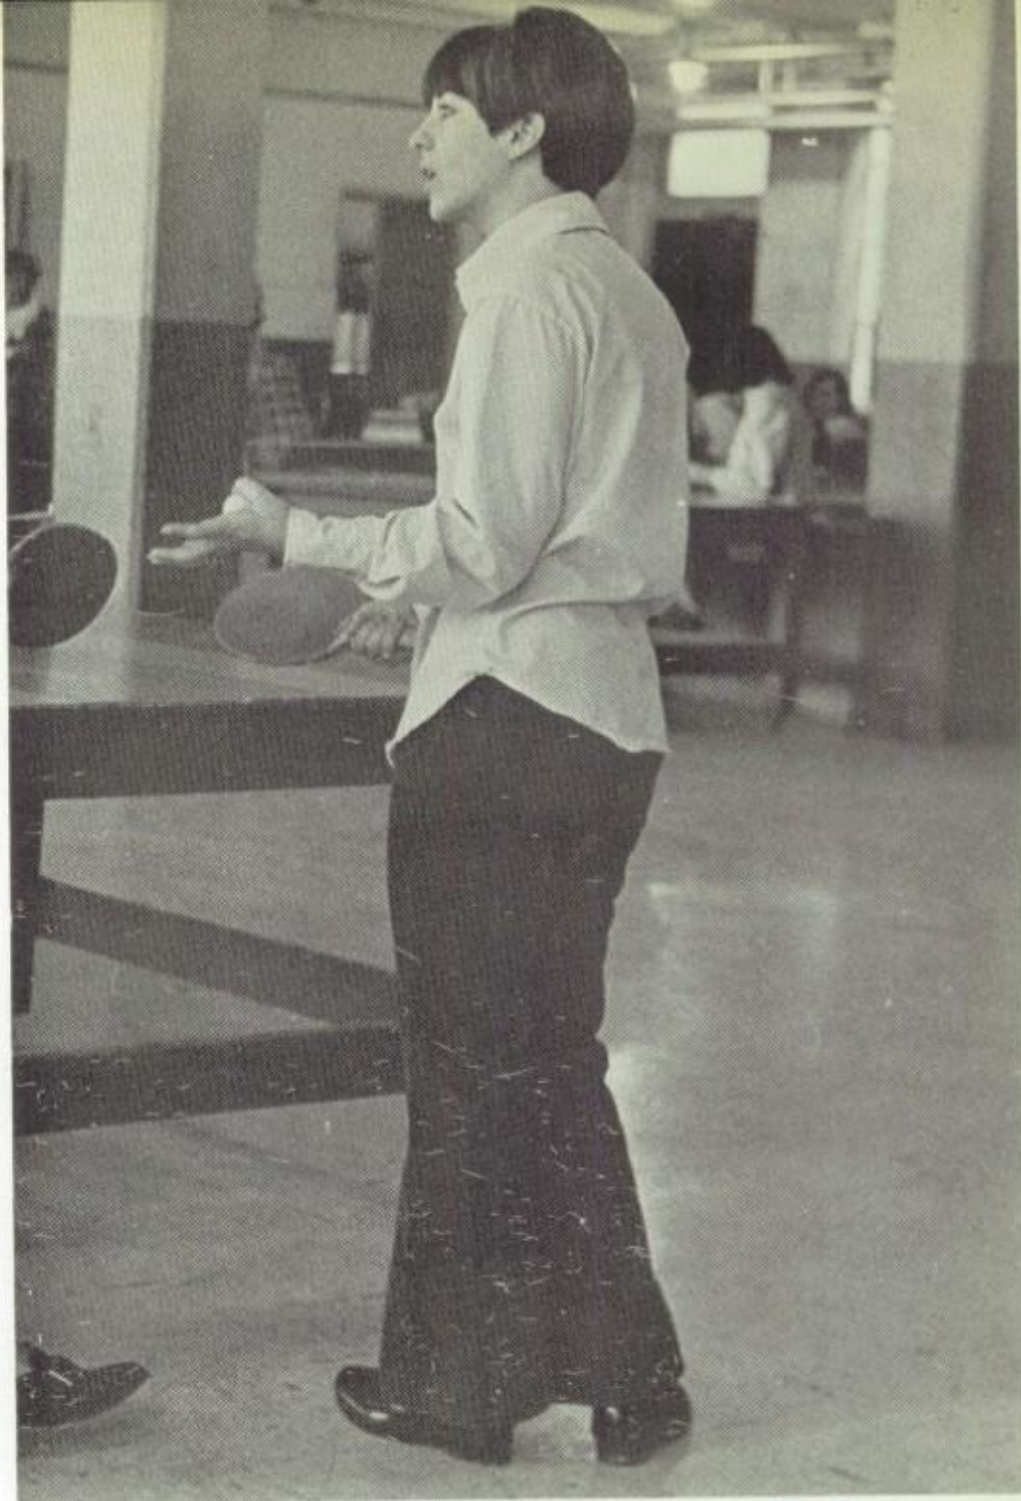

Various Projects Are Undertaken By Forsgard Girls

Forsgard Service Club was organized January 27, 1947, in honor of Miss Annie Forsgard, a retired teacher and girl's advisor at Waco High. Since that time the club has been involved in projects ranging from tutoring at the State Home to buying glasses for a mother.

Projects for this year included baking cookies for the Mental Health Center; working with the March of Dimes; collecting for Muscular Dystrophy; giving a Thanksgiving party for the Joyce Stamps Day Nursery; making stockings for a rest home; cleaning the school's trophies; and selling Service League candy, household cleaner, and annual covers.

Genheimer Sponsors Car Paint and Wash For Richfield Game

Genheimer Service League was organized in 1915 in honor of Mr. E. T. Genheimer. The club's main goal is to serve mankind. The members help with community drives and cheer up residents in local rest homes.

Genheimer sponsor, Mrs. Mary Van Zandt, is new at the business of sponsoring but does a marvelous job.

The girls' activities this year included baking cookies, selling candy, painting cars for the Richfield-Waco football game, and of course, initiating new members.

"If she's smiling all the while, she is a Genheimer girl!"

Weekly Refreshments Give Writers Energy To Improve Style

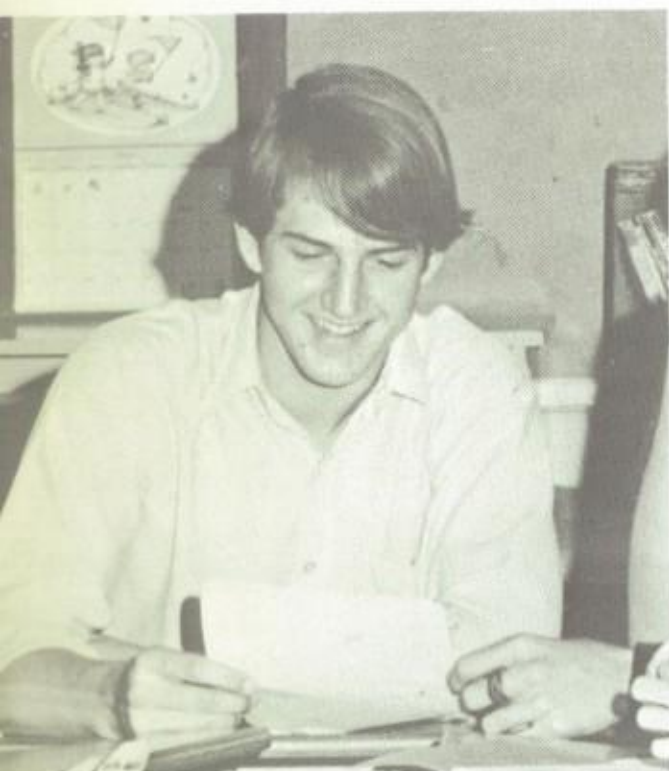

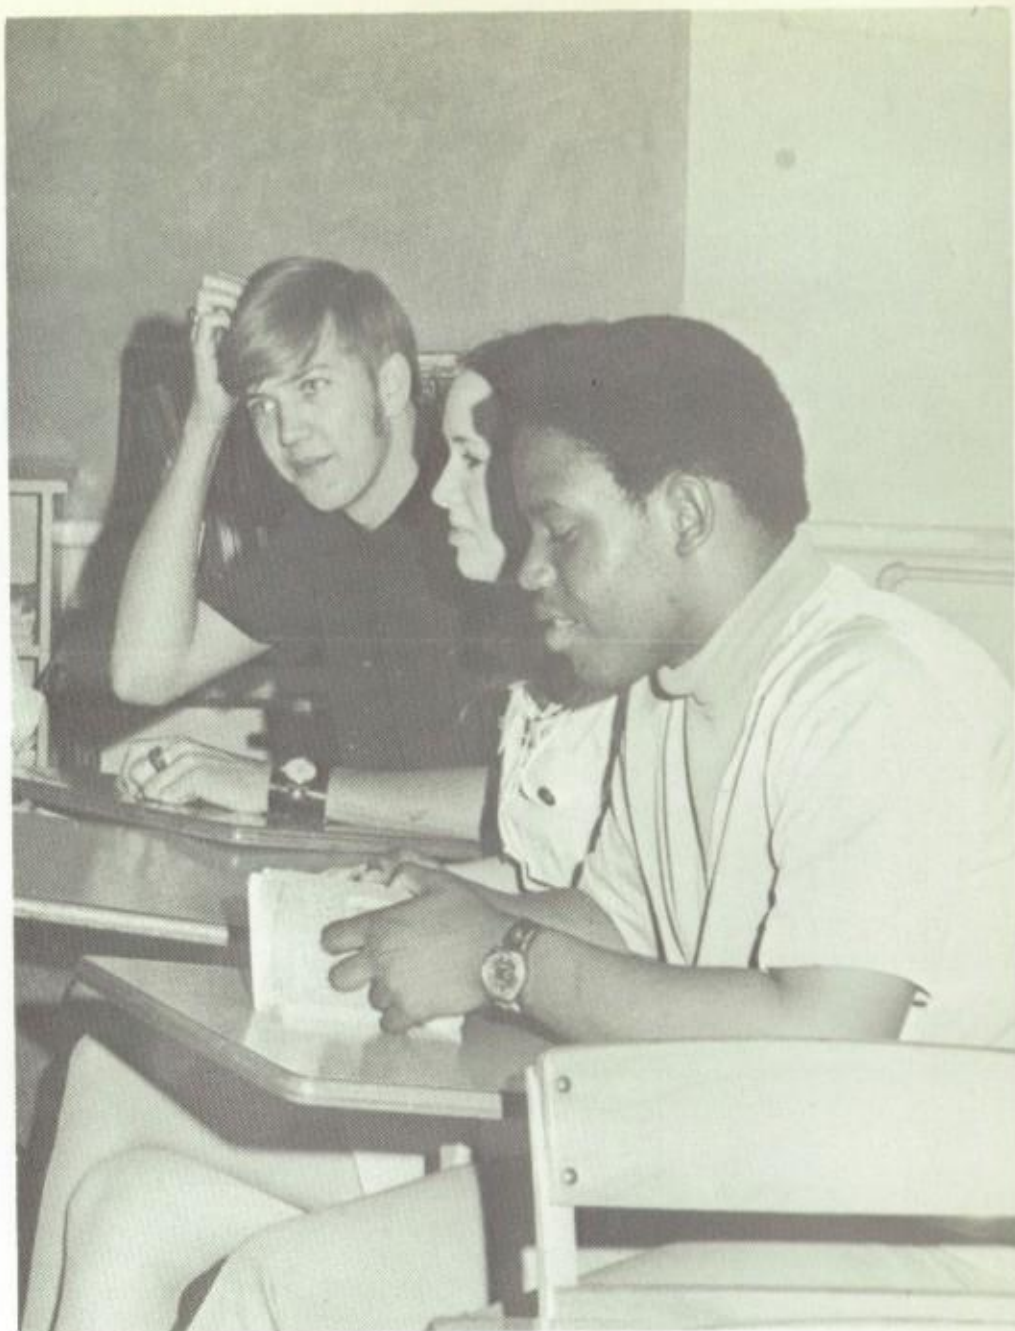

The Contemporary Writing Society is an organization composed of students who have an interest in creative writing. These students benefit from their work in the club and the opportunities it offers them. Constructive criticism from both sponsor and students helps each member to improve his writing skill.

Perhaps the club's most significant event this year was its participation in the televised assembly this fall. The selections of past and present members were read.

Not only do the members display their writing abilities but also their eating talents, as refreshments are supplied weekly.

Chess Club Absorbs Students' Leisure Time

The Chess Club meetings are devoted entirely to playing chess. All members either play or are interested in learning to play chess.

Each semester a tournament is organized for all members. Trophies are awarded to the champion and to the winners of the consolation matches.

The activities of each semester are officially closed with a brunch in the cafeteria.

D. E. Students Receive On-the-job Training

"Earn while you learn!" an unofficial slogan of the Distributive Education Club, describes both the goals and programs of the club.

In class, business techniques and practices are studied and later applied to the members' afterschool jobs.

Under the supervision of Mr. W. D. Hudspeth, the club strives to prepare junior and senior students for a place in today's business world after graduation.

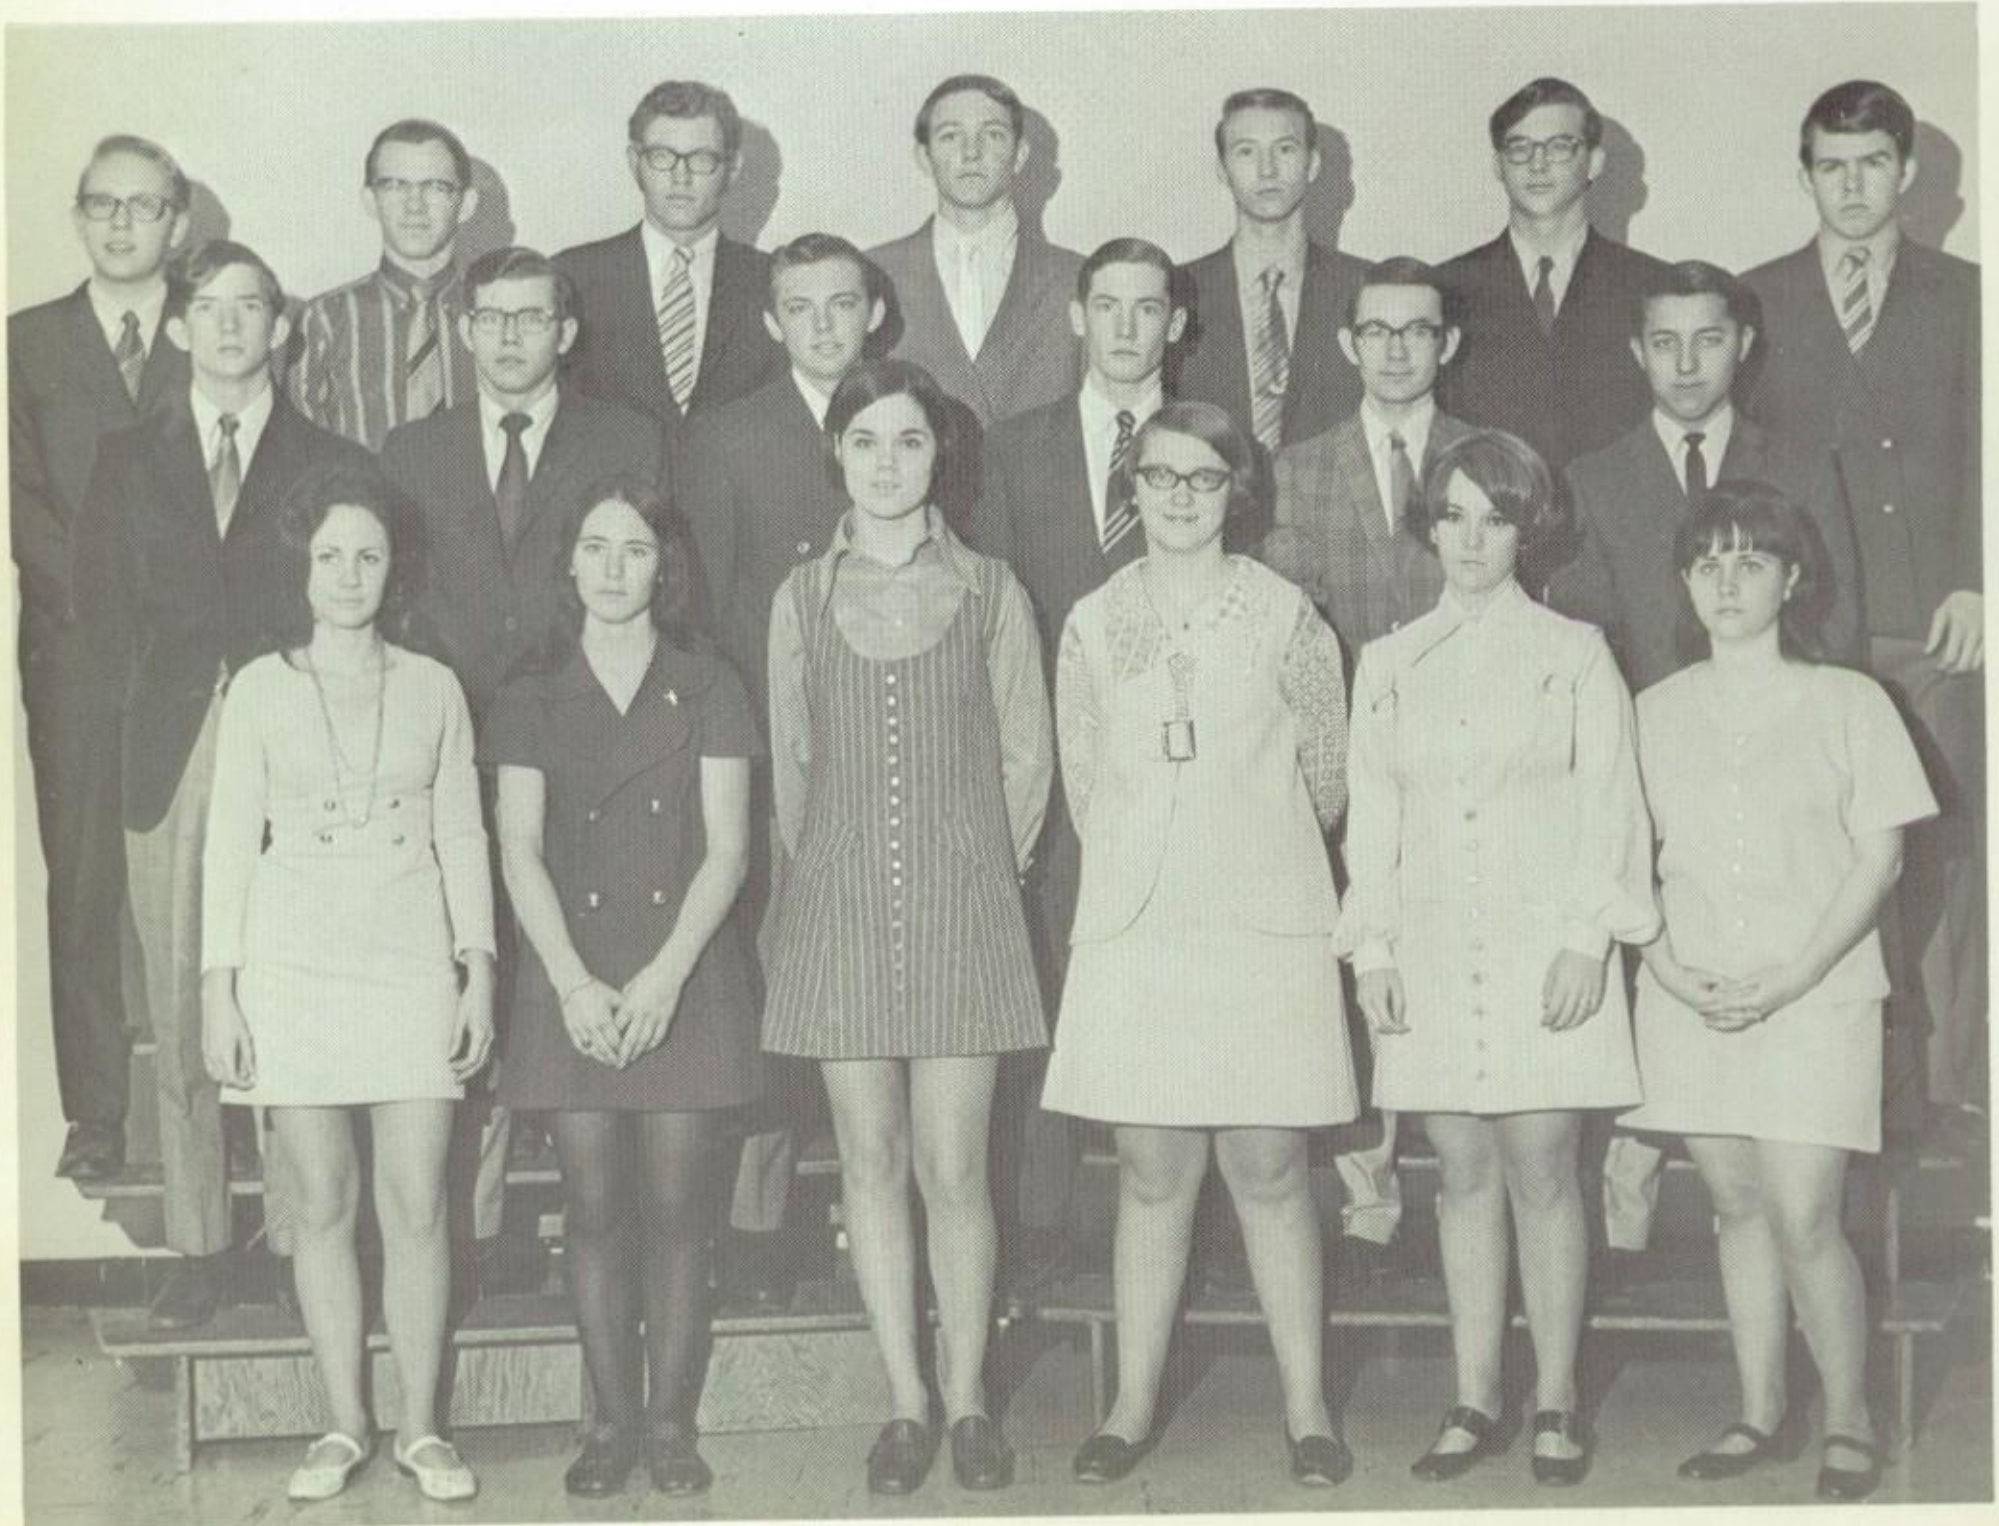

Students receive on the job training while they also earn money. They go to school half a day and work while they are learning.

Stud. Off., Field and Stream Promote Sportsmanship

The function of this club is to train and provide officials to serve at football and basketball games conducted between junior high schools within the city.

Acting as officials gives the members an opportunity to teach sportsmanship, good conduct, and fair play to the inexperienced player. Their sponsor is Mr. Jack Schrader.

Field and Stream Club which is sponsored by Mr. Richard Smith is composed of all three grades.

During their meeting they see films of camping and fishing trips. They learn safety in all fields of outdoor recreation.

The have speakers and well planned fields trips throughout the year.

Future Nurses Perform Rescue with Donuts

Future Nurses is an organization to help girls make nursing a career. All the girls enjoy learning and serving their community.

This year they performed a great service to our school by selling donuts. Early in the morning with an empty stomach, each student realized that the Future Nurses were important.

The club is sponsored by Mrs. Elizabeth Price and Miss Bobbie Abernathy.

Fut. Teach., Nike Club Prepare for Careers

Even though Future Teachers is one of the smallest clubs at Waco High, it is the most important. Our world of tomorrow will always need teachers. These students, realizing that need, try to learn the most effective way of teaching.

The purpose of the FTA is to interest students in making teaching a career. Through the varied programs of speakers, projects, and field trips, the FTA acquaints students with the many opportunities and facets of teaching.

The Nike Club, which is sponsored by the "Business and Professional Women's Club" of Waco, was established this year. It is the first club of its kind to be started in the city of Waco and replaces the former Future Secretaries Club.

The objectives of the club are as follows: (1) to develop initiative and leadership, (2) to give service to the school and community, (3) to study vocations and prepare for a career, (4) to accept the responsibility of citizenship and (5) to inspire appreciation of our free land and its opportunities.

The Key Club is one of Waco High's numerous service clubs. The club is sponsored by the downtown Kiwanis Club which consists of many prominent and influential citizens of Waco.

It strives to improve the facilities and general welfare of Waco High with the money it receives through fund raising projects. Some of the projects are the annual selling of fruit cakes, painting house numbers on curbs, and selling tickets to athletic games.

Pan American means all American. The PASF'S main goal is to become better acquainted with the way of life and art of our neighbors to the south.

To become better acquainted with the customs of our Southern neighbors, the club tries to put into practice some of the customs of their every day life. Sight Singers, Sketchers Appreciate Fine Arts

The action starts at exactly 9:35 in the chorus hall. What is it? It's the exciting sound of young voices uniting in harmony or unison.

Randy Lofgren, because of his love of music and young people has taken the responsibility of this group of students. They take a song they have never seen before and sing it as well as they can. "We try to develop skills in music reading by reading at first sight a variety of choral literature, ranging from popular to classical," says Mr. Lofgren.

The Sketch Club is made up of students who enjoy drawing, painting, and any other phase of art. They help with making decorations for many events which are held at school.

They have speakers and different exhibits throughout the year. The club is sponsored by Mrs. McHam.

Cheerleaders Spark Year's Great Spirit

The cheerleaders form an integral part of Waco High School sports. This year they generated more spirit in our student body than has been seen in a long time. They cheered at football, basketball, and many of the track meets and baseball games. They channeled the enthusiasm of the crowds toward the event.

During the summer while attending the Camp of Champs Cheerleader School at the Houston Baptist College, the cheerleaders won the highest honor, the sparkplug, for the most spirit and spark for the whole week. In addition to this, they won one second place for best cheerleading, two third places, and a fourth place. In individual honors, Lewis Anne won second most popular and Steve and Larry advanced to the finals in jumping.

A special hand goes to our cheerleaders. Thanks, Mary Jane, Lewis Anne, Rita, Larry, Steve, and Johnny!

Coaches Run Team Through Practice For Another Game

"Waco High was the toughest team we played," said a player on the Richfield team. Although the Tigers had a 2-8 season, they played the type of hardnosed football student spectators really appreciate. Coach Gardner, the rest of the staff, and team can be proud of a well played season against strong competition. The 1969 Tigers never quit hitting, and the linemen and backers kept going for another touchdown against big schools of District 14-AAAA.

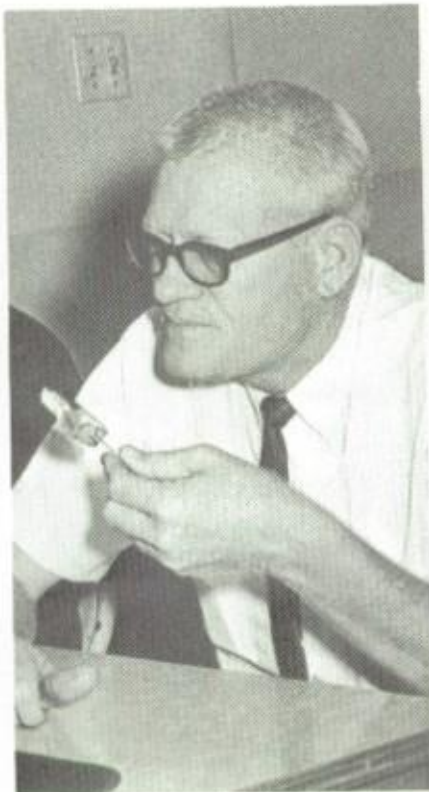

The first game of the season rolled around against one of the powers of the Texas Catholic League and fell to the score of 36-6. The new offense had its troubles but showed signs of future strength. Despite the score, the defense came up with some outstanding plays. Charles Alexander and Mike Scott received special recognition from their teammates for great defensive playing. John Davis was also an offensive star of the game.

Bouncing back from their first loss, the Tigers really became a fighting unit as the defense and offense played a strong game in defeating Arlington Heights and avenging their loss of last year in Fort Worth.

Managers Care for Tigers in the Games; Hunt, Baier, Khoury Make All-District

The Tiger offense, highlighted by the passing of Dennis Baier, the running of the offensive back-field and the over-all play of the defense, picked to finish first in their district. John Munos, Larry Weaver, Russell Ross, Richard Peoples, and David Phythian were sighted for their outstanding playing by the Waco News Tribune Herald.

After this first win the Tigers suffered two losses by close scores. Austin Travis and Temple barely managed to squeak out a victory over the hard hitting Tigers. Tim Hunt and Mike Scott played a strong game at linebacker in the Austin game and Steve Khoury and Steve Wilson came up with many outstanding plays.

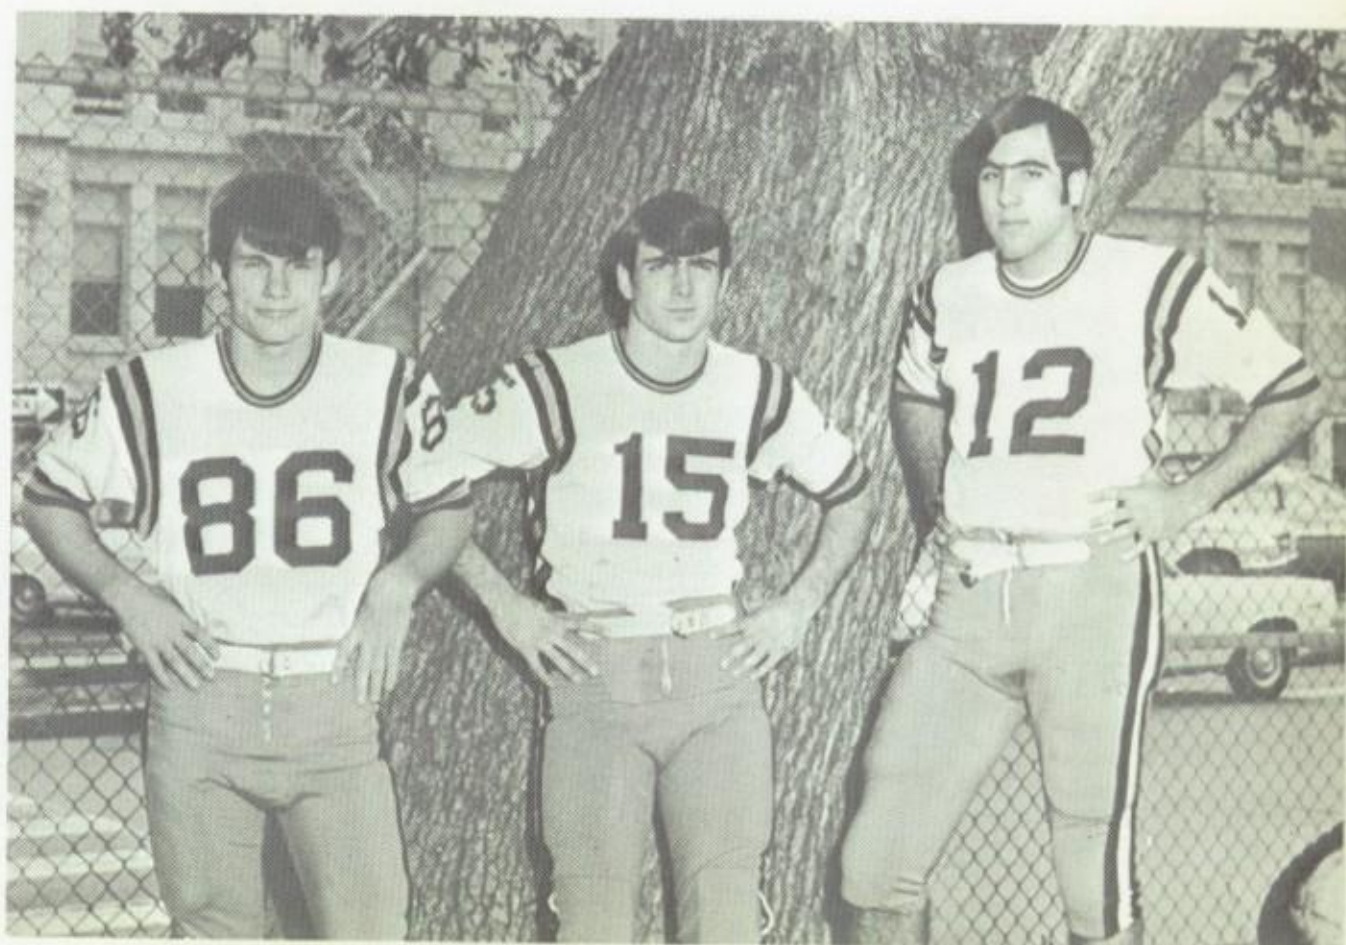

The University game, a typical cross-town rivalry, found the Trojans and their elusive quarterbacks, "Squeaky" Valdez on top. The game was a close defensive struggle with many close calls and outstanding plays. David Battles and Jay Lee came up with some strong plays which kept this rivalry exciting.

Mighty Tigers' Season Is Disappointing

BOTTOM: Travis Comer is helped off the field after an injury in the season's game.

Meeting their stiffest competition in the next three games, the Tigers played Killeen, Bryan and Cleburne. Each of these games were marked by quickness and tight defense. In the Cleburne game especially. Charlie Parmes, John Davis and Johnny Dodd gave good performances against a faster team.

The Tigers broke out of their slump and defeated Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio 7 to 6 with a last minute pass from Dennis Baier to Russell Ross for a touchdown. Baier engineered this drive with passes to Richard Peoples, Tim Hunt, Steve Wilson, as well as Russell Ross. The defense played an outstanding game, stopping the Jefferson offense entirely. Although our offense marched up and down the field, they never crossed the goal line until the clock showed 3 seconds left in the game. Danny Willis played a strong game in the line, while Carl Giles and Tim Hunt played superb defense.

Tigers End Season with 2-8 Record

As the season drew to a close, the entire student body anticipated the Richfield game which was the last game of the season. All records were thrown away for this game as two strong teams fought it out throughout the whole game. The Tigers gave an exciting performance but came one touchdown short of victory in their 12-7 loss to the Rams, who placed second in the district.

The 1969-70 Tigers have a lot to look back on. They have the memories of "Death Valley" practices, of victory and defeat, and of the personal struggles on the playing field. This year's Tigers as well as the student body have every right to be proud of this season.

Why Tigers?

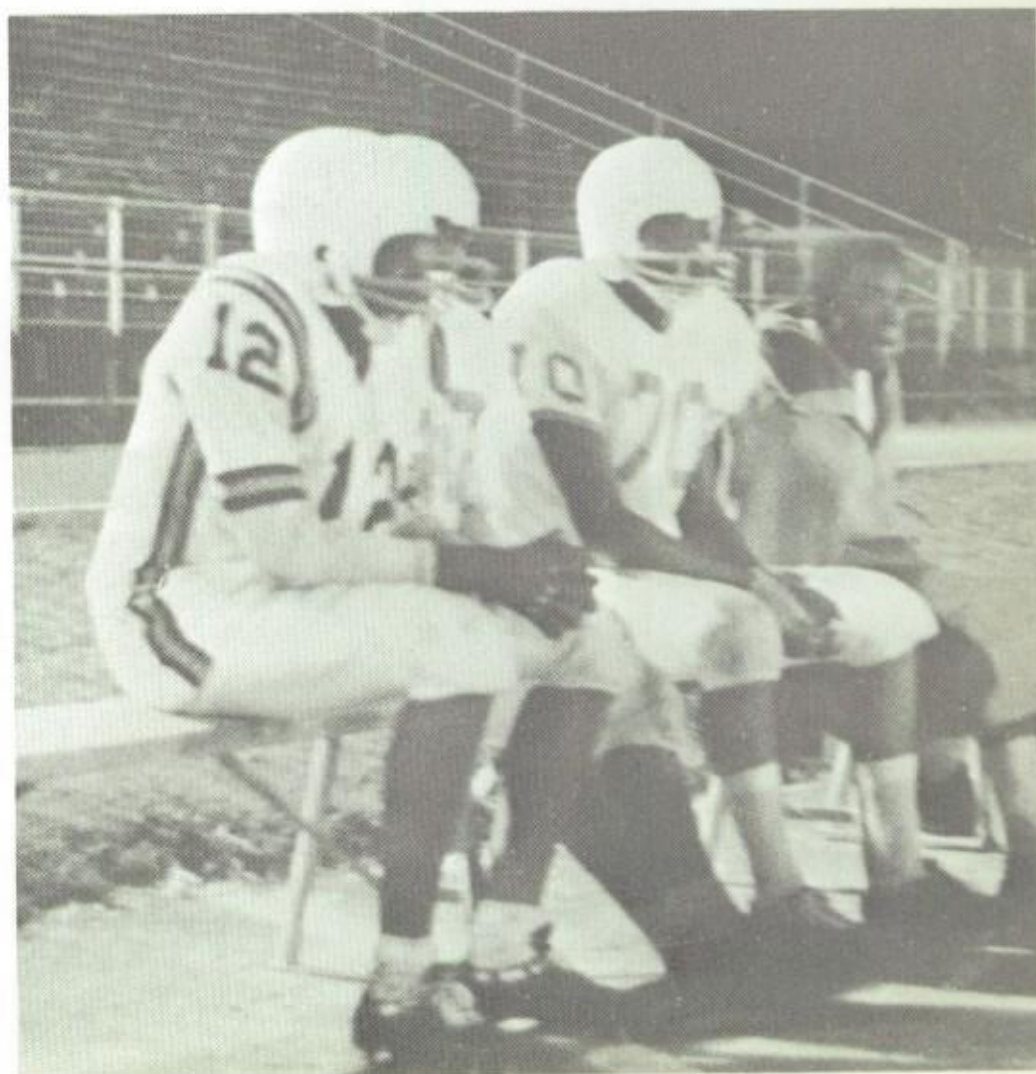

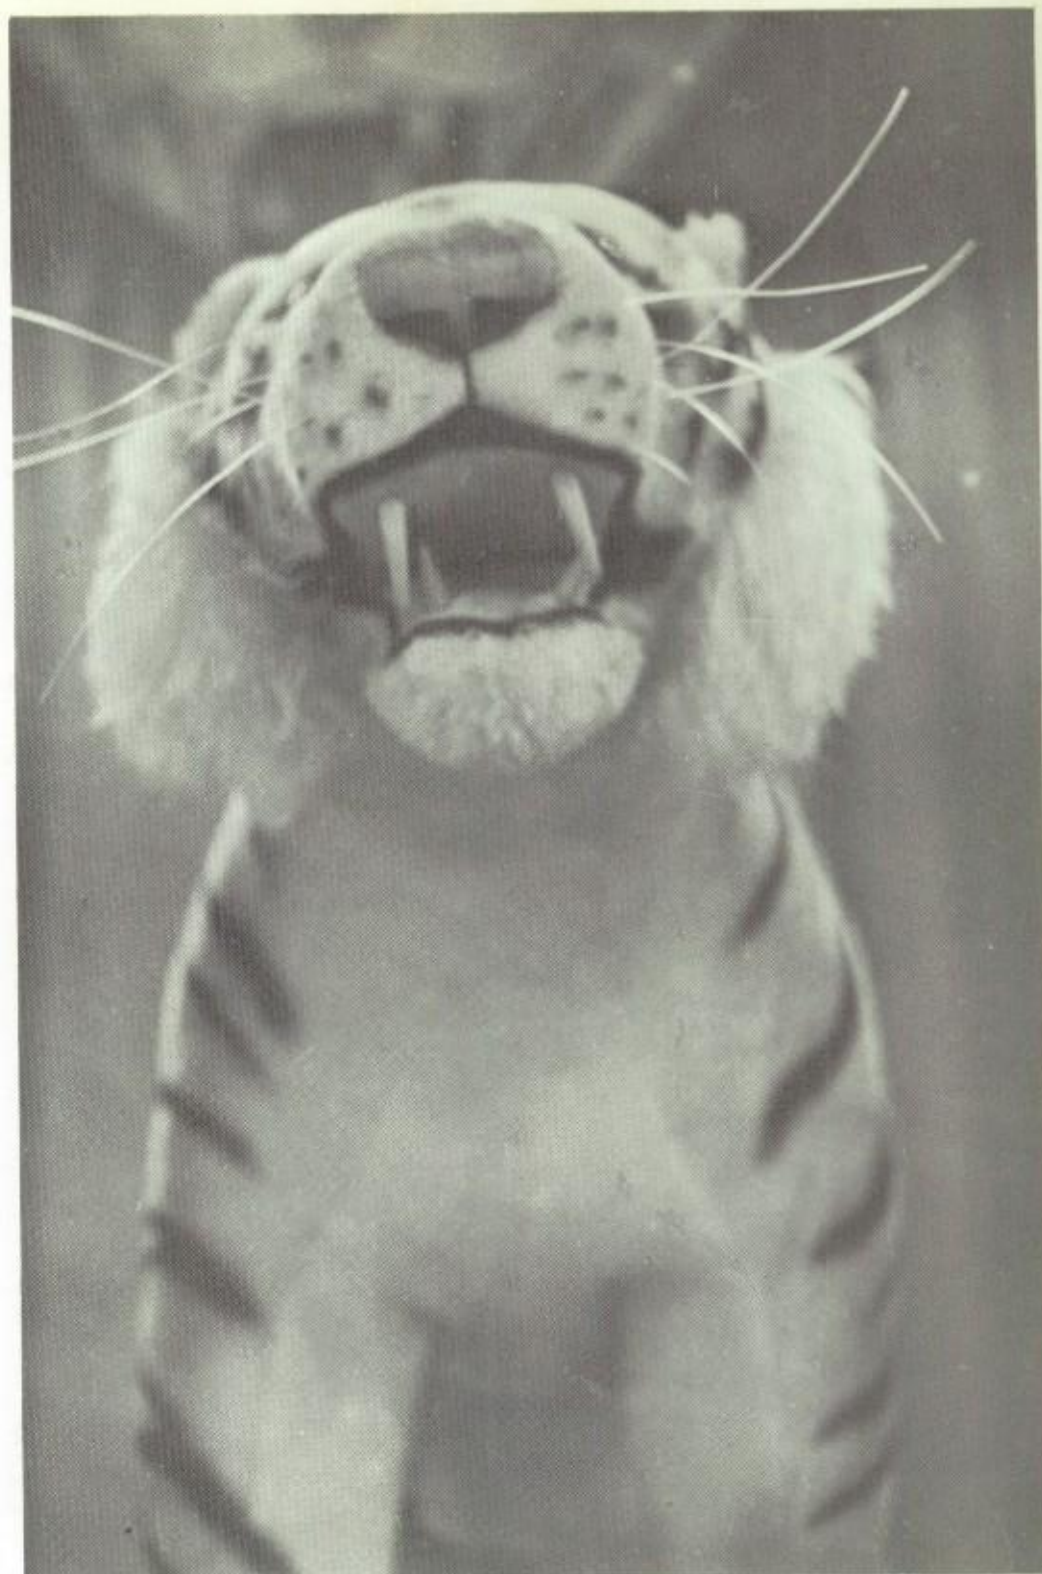

No one sat down and said Waco High needs a mascot and no one at school voted on the matter. The name came through one man's description of Paul Tyson's 1921 Waco High State Championship Football Team. This man, Mr. H. H. (Jinx) Tucker, immortal sports writer for the Waco News Tribune, came to work in Waco that year and coined the popular phrase "Tyson's Tigers." Reasons for the phrase are not certain but the following facts should have had some influence on Mr. Tucker. In 1921 Waco High's football scores were as follows;

Mexia	0	Waco High	139
Marlin	0	Waco High	97
Baylor Cubs	0	Waco High	34
Oak Cliff	0	Waco High	28
Beaumont	0	Waco High	63
Austin	0	Waco High	38
Hillsboro	0	Waco High	41
Marshall	0	Waco High	87

No opposing team, that year, got any closer to the goal than the 25 yard line. Therefore the phrase "Tyson's Tigers" stuck. Mr. Jinx Tucker had started a legend at Waco High in 1921, and Tiger history was born.

Regit, Waco High's next addition to Tiger Tradition, traveled to Waco in the fall of 1953. Coaches Mr. Johnie Riola, Mr. Wayne Gardner, Mr. Jack Price and Mr. Dick Lindsey had traveled down to Houston to scout the Lamar football team. Waco High and Lamar were playing each other in the state football playoffs. While in Houston, Mr. Lindsey spotted these life size animals in Foleys Department Store. After inquiry, the coaches learned that a stuffed tiger would cost about $200. The coaches returned to Waco and announced to the student body on a Monday morning about their finding a tiger and the cost. It was now up to the student body to decide on whether they wanted a tiger. That was a Monday morning, by Wednesday morning the $200 had been given to the coaches by the students for the purchase of the tiger. Next week the coaches returned to Houston and bought the tiger which was made in Germany.

The nameless tiger came to Waco. It had a cage, costing between $50 and $100, made for it with the aid of Mr. Fritz Linnstaedter, Mr. Pop Werner and Mr. Wilbur Hall. Now came the task of naming the tiger which was to represent Waco High. After a contest was held, the student body voted on Regit, which is tiger spelled backwards, as the official name of the tiger.

Waco High School's Tiger history goes far back. It started with Mr. Tucker and is embedded today in the feeling "Spirit of Waco."

1970, An Exciting Year for Tiger Basketball

The 8-23 record of the Tiger basketball team does not tell the whole story. To discover the real story of this team, one had to talk and associate with, and watch the 1970 Tigers.

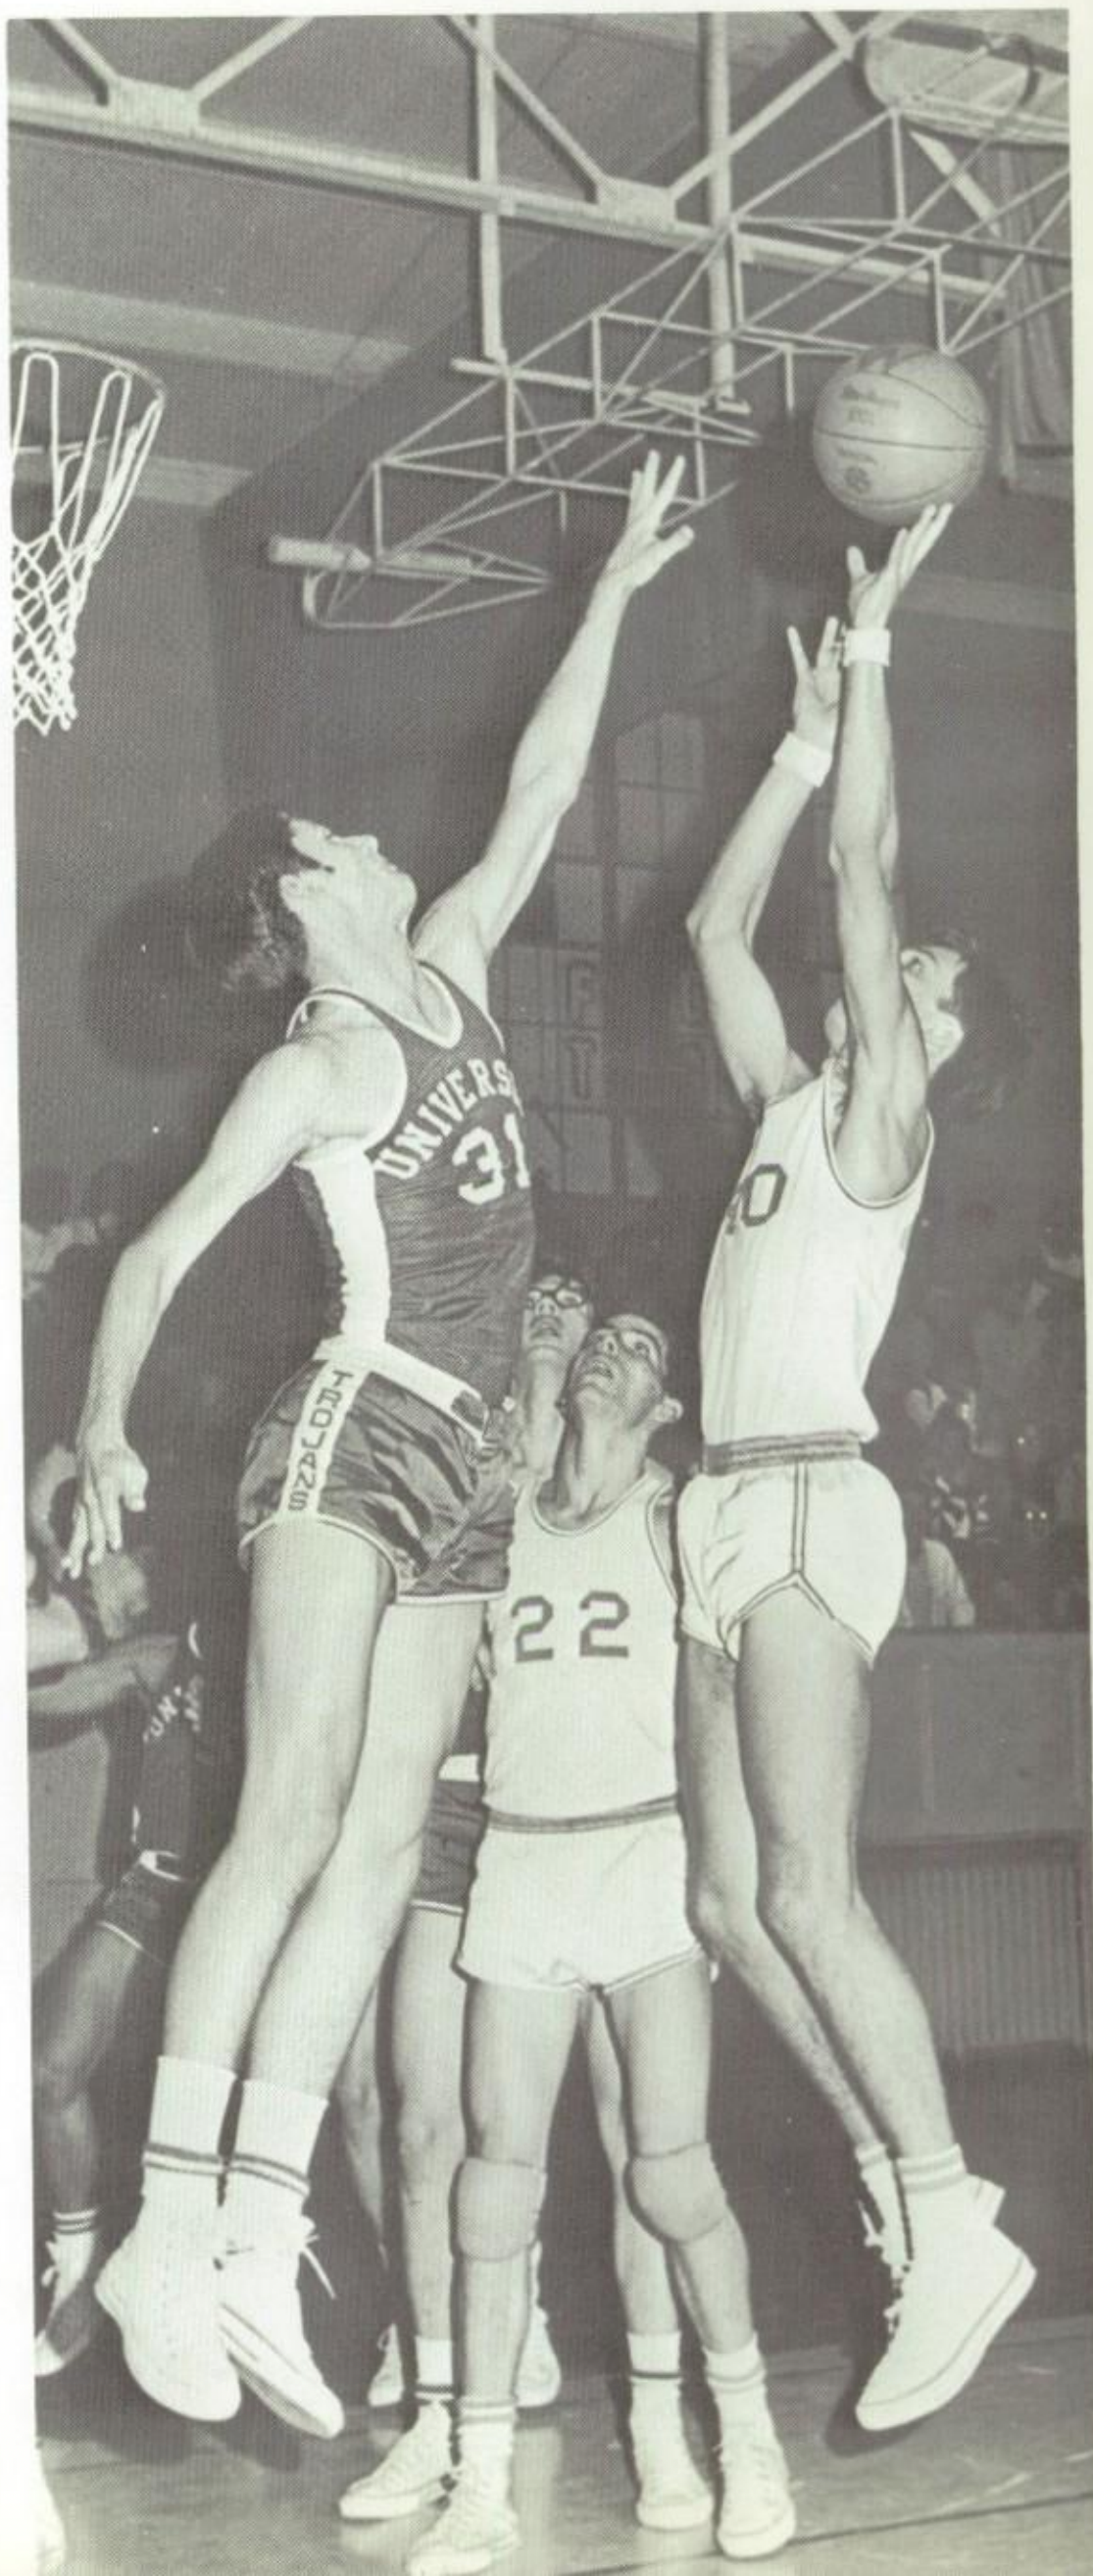

Thom Clark (6'6"), Randy Willis (6'5"), and Steve Wilson (6'3") composed a tall set of forwards. They were further complimented with the addition of 3 quick guards: James Bush, Jesse Fuentes, and Shelby Bradburn. These 6 along with some strong bench help from Charles Alexander, Eddie Sherman, Ross Abbott, and Ansylun Hudlin; made up a team with 3 major ingredients.

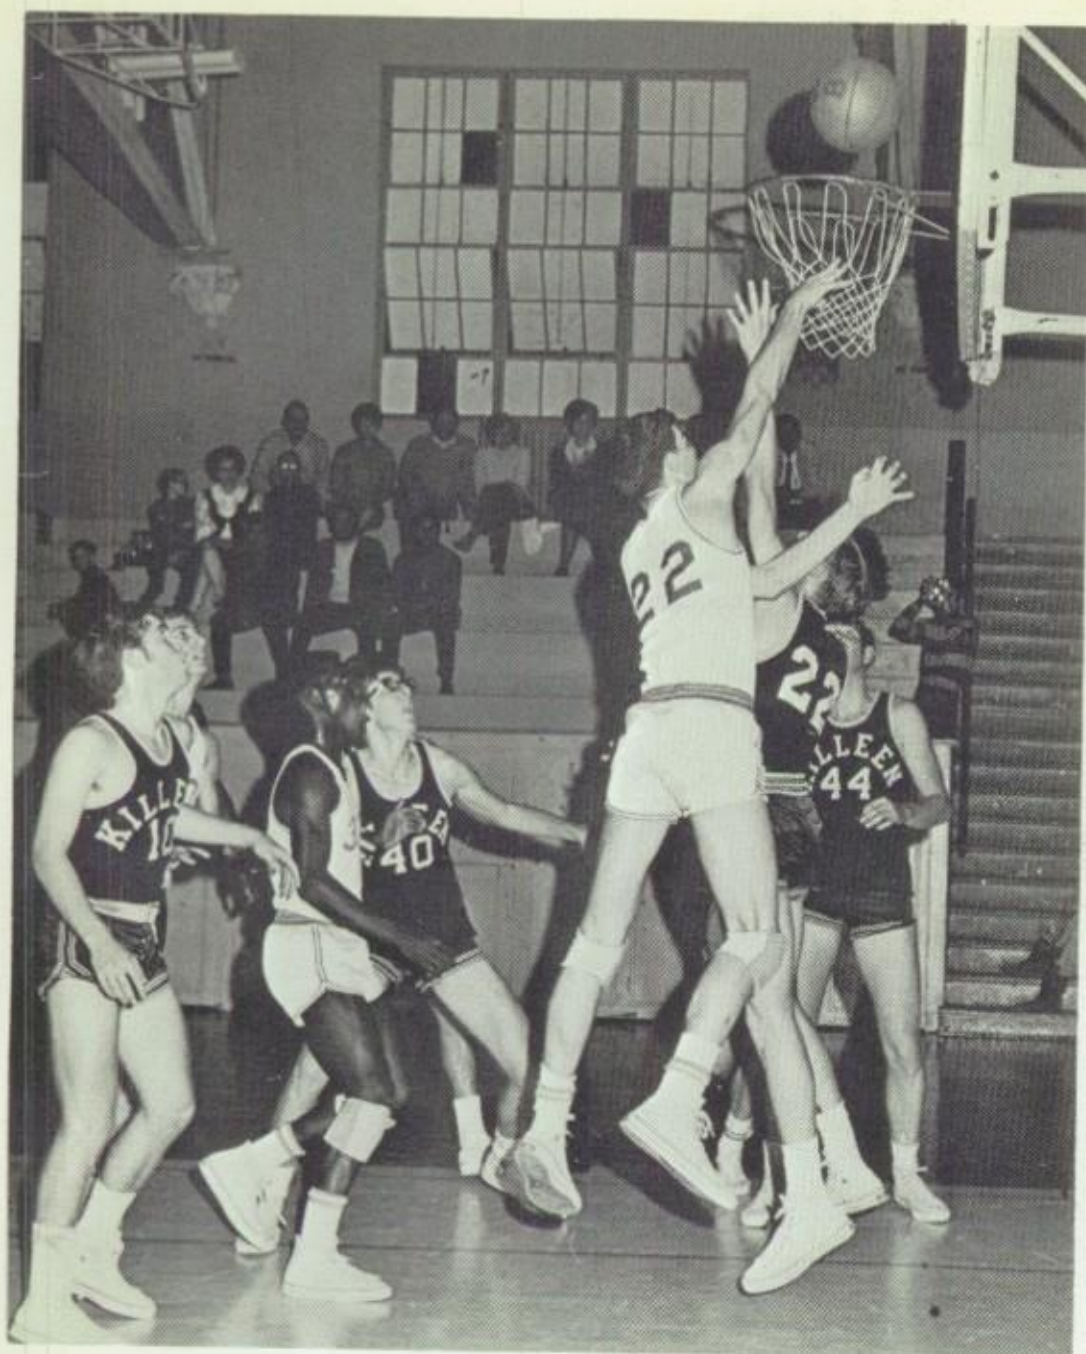

First, 1970's varsity squad was determined to master the fundamentals, to improve, and most of all, to win. With 8 out of 10 boys on this team being juniors, Coach Jack Schrader must have had some pretty dark thoughts about this season. In overcoming their inexperience, they had some good and bad times. Against Richfield in the middle of the season the Tigers scored 73 points and still lost. They came within 1 point of Temple before losing in the final minutes.

RIGHT: Randy Willis goes up for two points in the win over University.

But not all their games ended on such a bad note. The tall men displayed some awesome strength in beating the pre-season favorite, Killeen, three times. Thom Clark and James Bush teamed up to score both University and Bryan.

The second major ingredient this year was ability. In warmup Steve Wilson, Randy Willis, and Thom Clark were able to dunk the ball. This jumping ability was not restricted merely to warm-up. Time and time again the big forwards would shoot over their opponent and too high in the air for a rebound.

Jesse Fuentes and James Bush dribbled through opponents, behind their backs and through their legs. Jesse's passes seemed to spark the team and very often a pass from Jesse to James "Mr. Outside" Bush would produce two points for the Tigers.

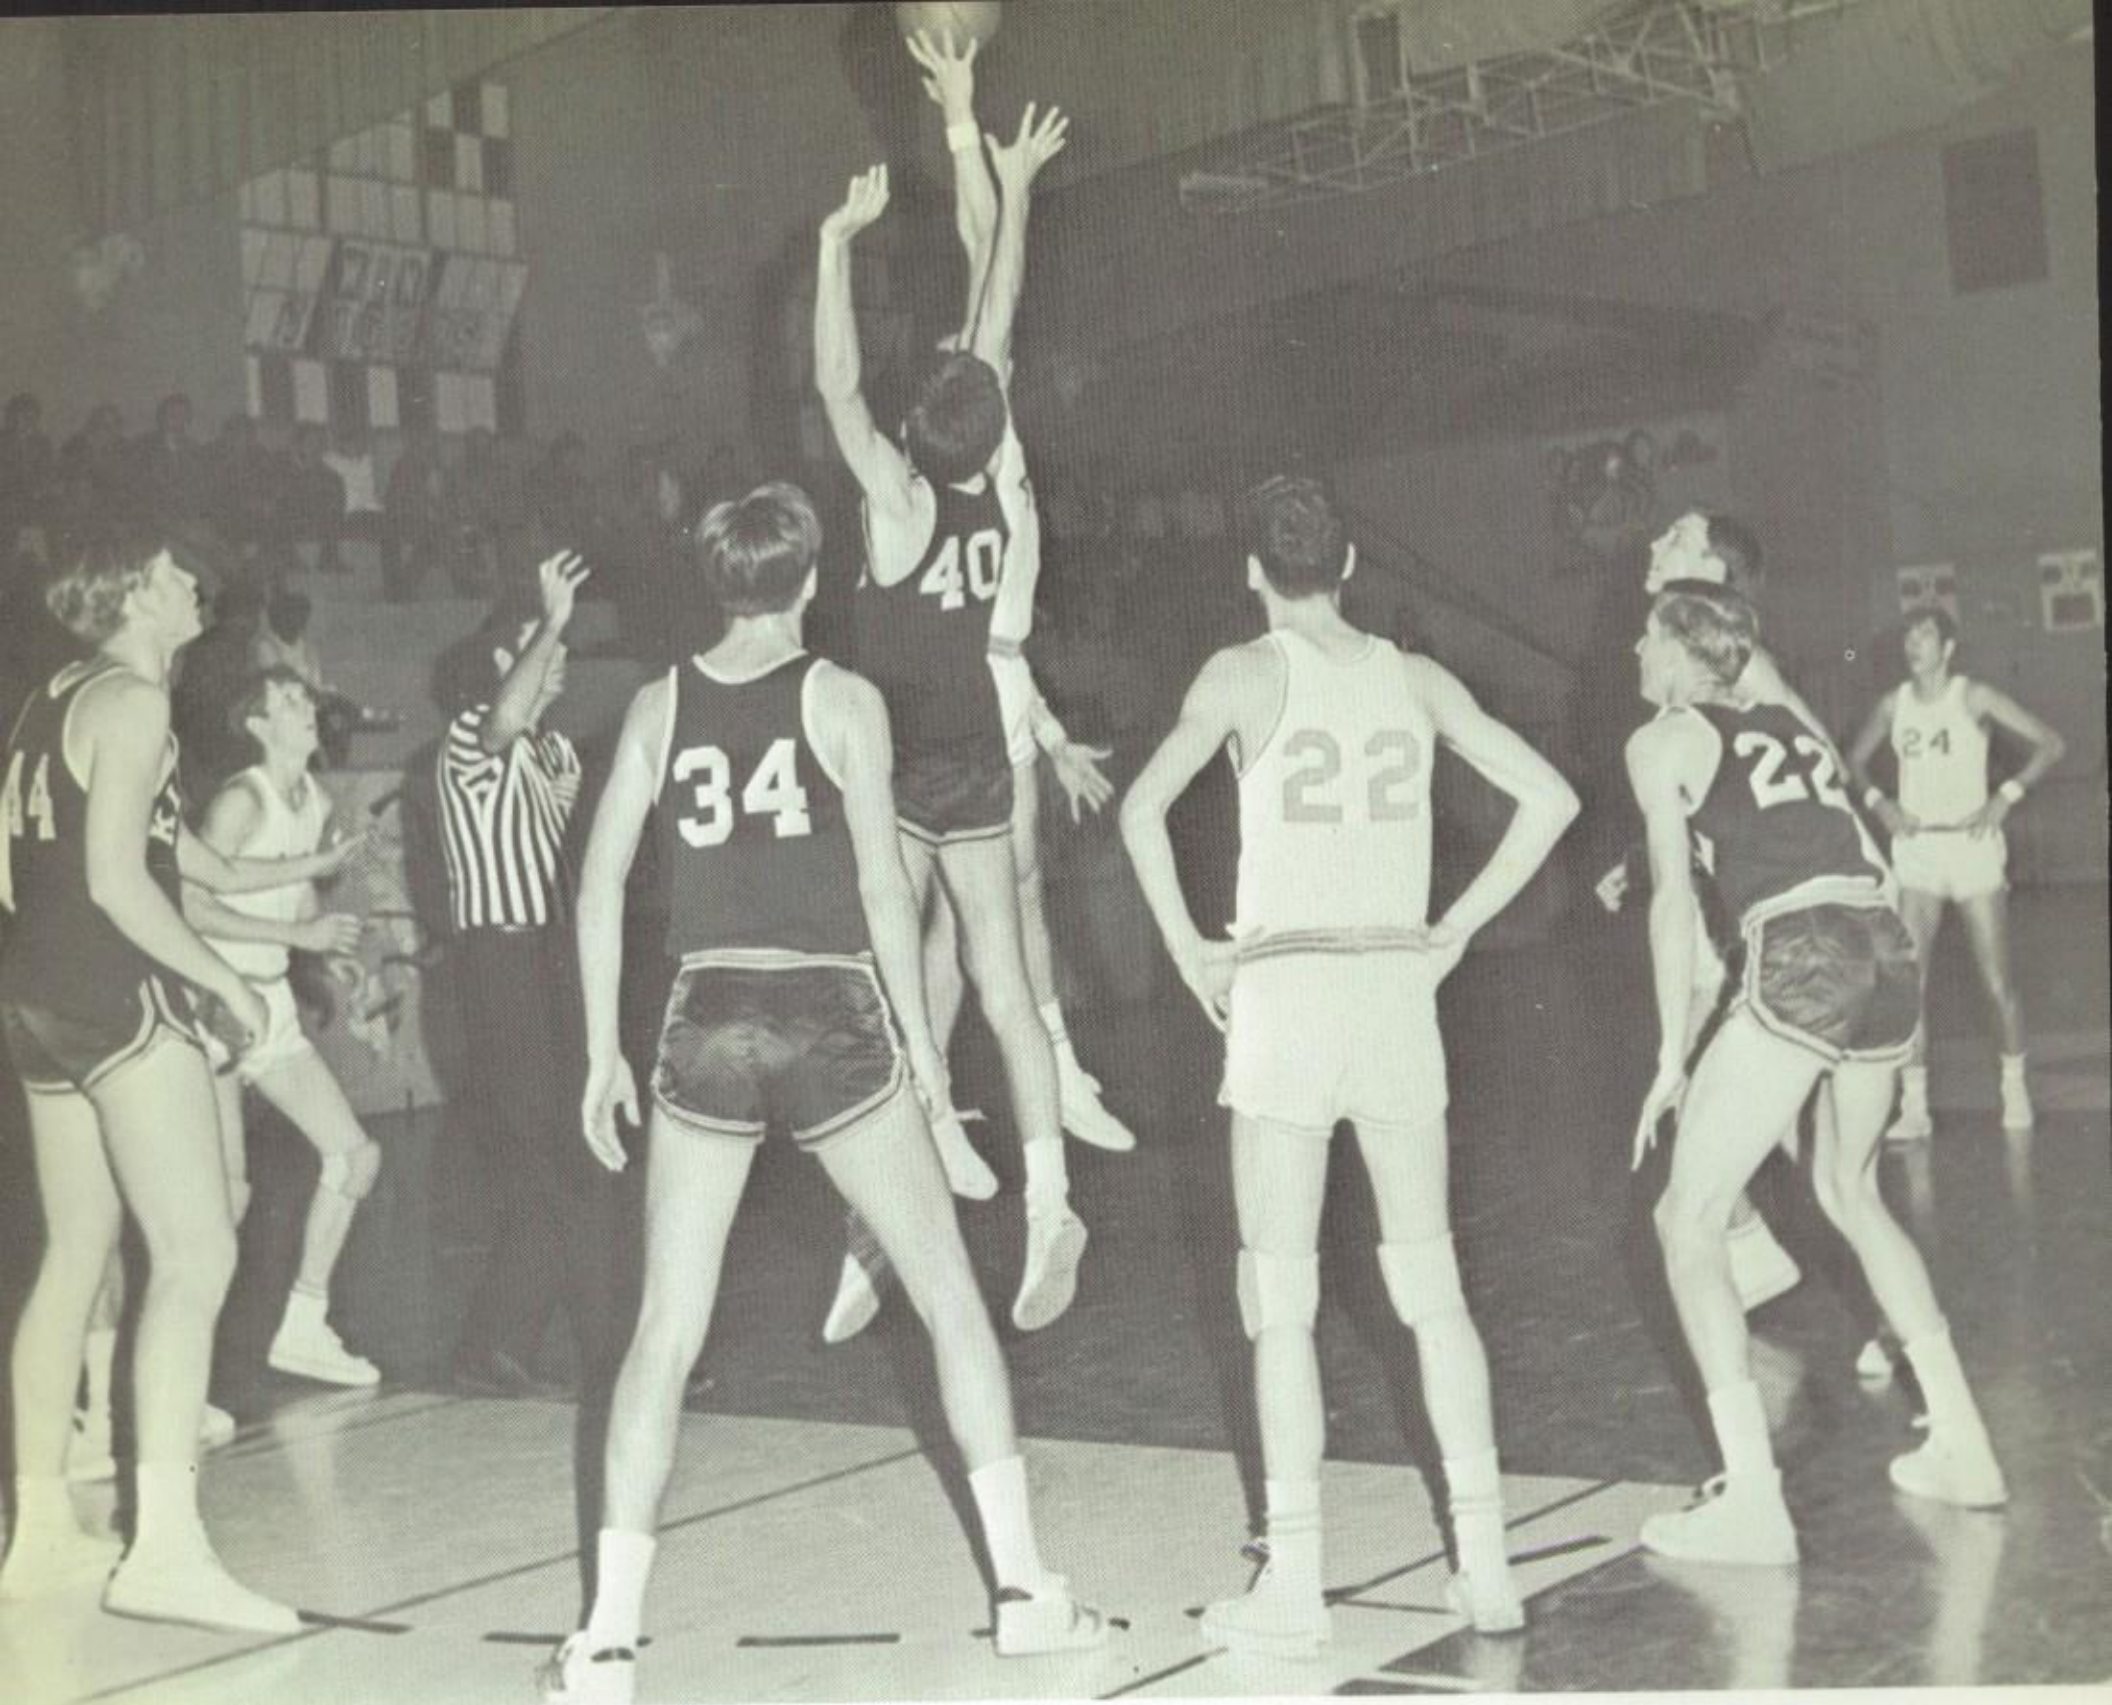

The third and probably most important ingredient was the overall spirit of this 1970 basketball team. Each home game the Tigers put out an especially great effort. But the team spirit did not limit itself to the basketball games. In practice or during the school day the overall oneness of the team was evident.

BACK ROW: Reid (manager), Wilson (42), Abbott (34), Clark (44), Willis (40), Bradburn (14), Schrader (coach), Helm (manager).

Each player had a nickname that the team had bestowed upon them. Jesse Fuentes (5'7") was called "Wilt" after the famous center for the Los Angeles Lakers, for obvious reasons. Some of the other players were also given names of pro basketball players. James Bush acquired the name "Lew Hudson" because he listened to the Atlanta Hawks' games, of which Hudson is top scorer. Steve Wilson, because of his speed in track was called "Quarter horse." Eddie Sherman was called "Hondo Havelichuk", because like Havelichuk, he would spark the team when he entered the game as a substitute.

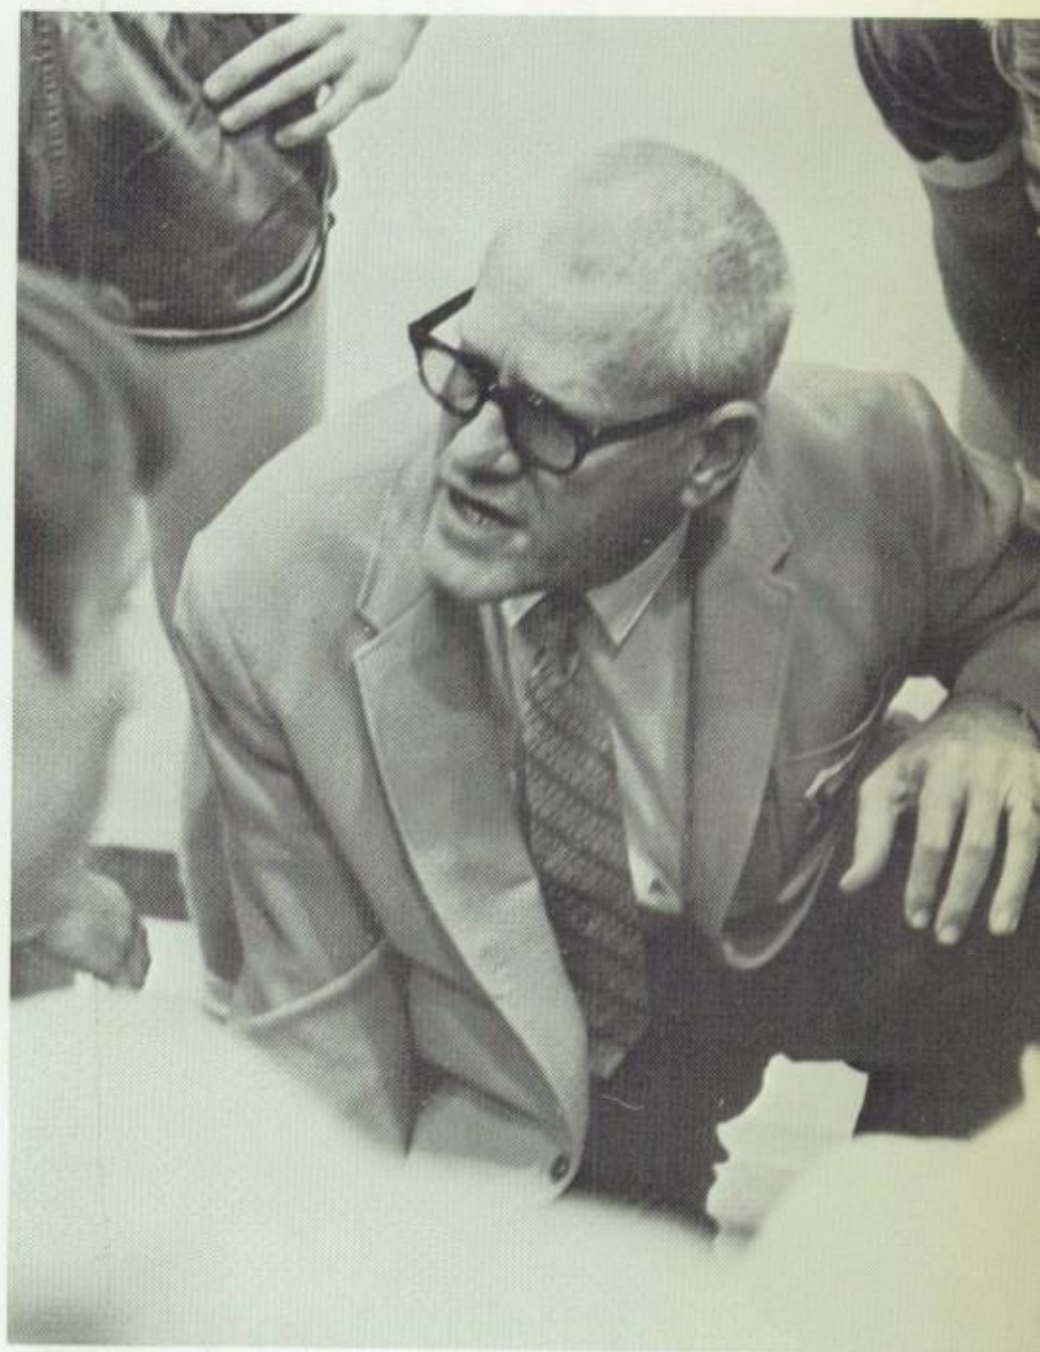

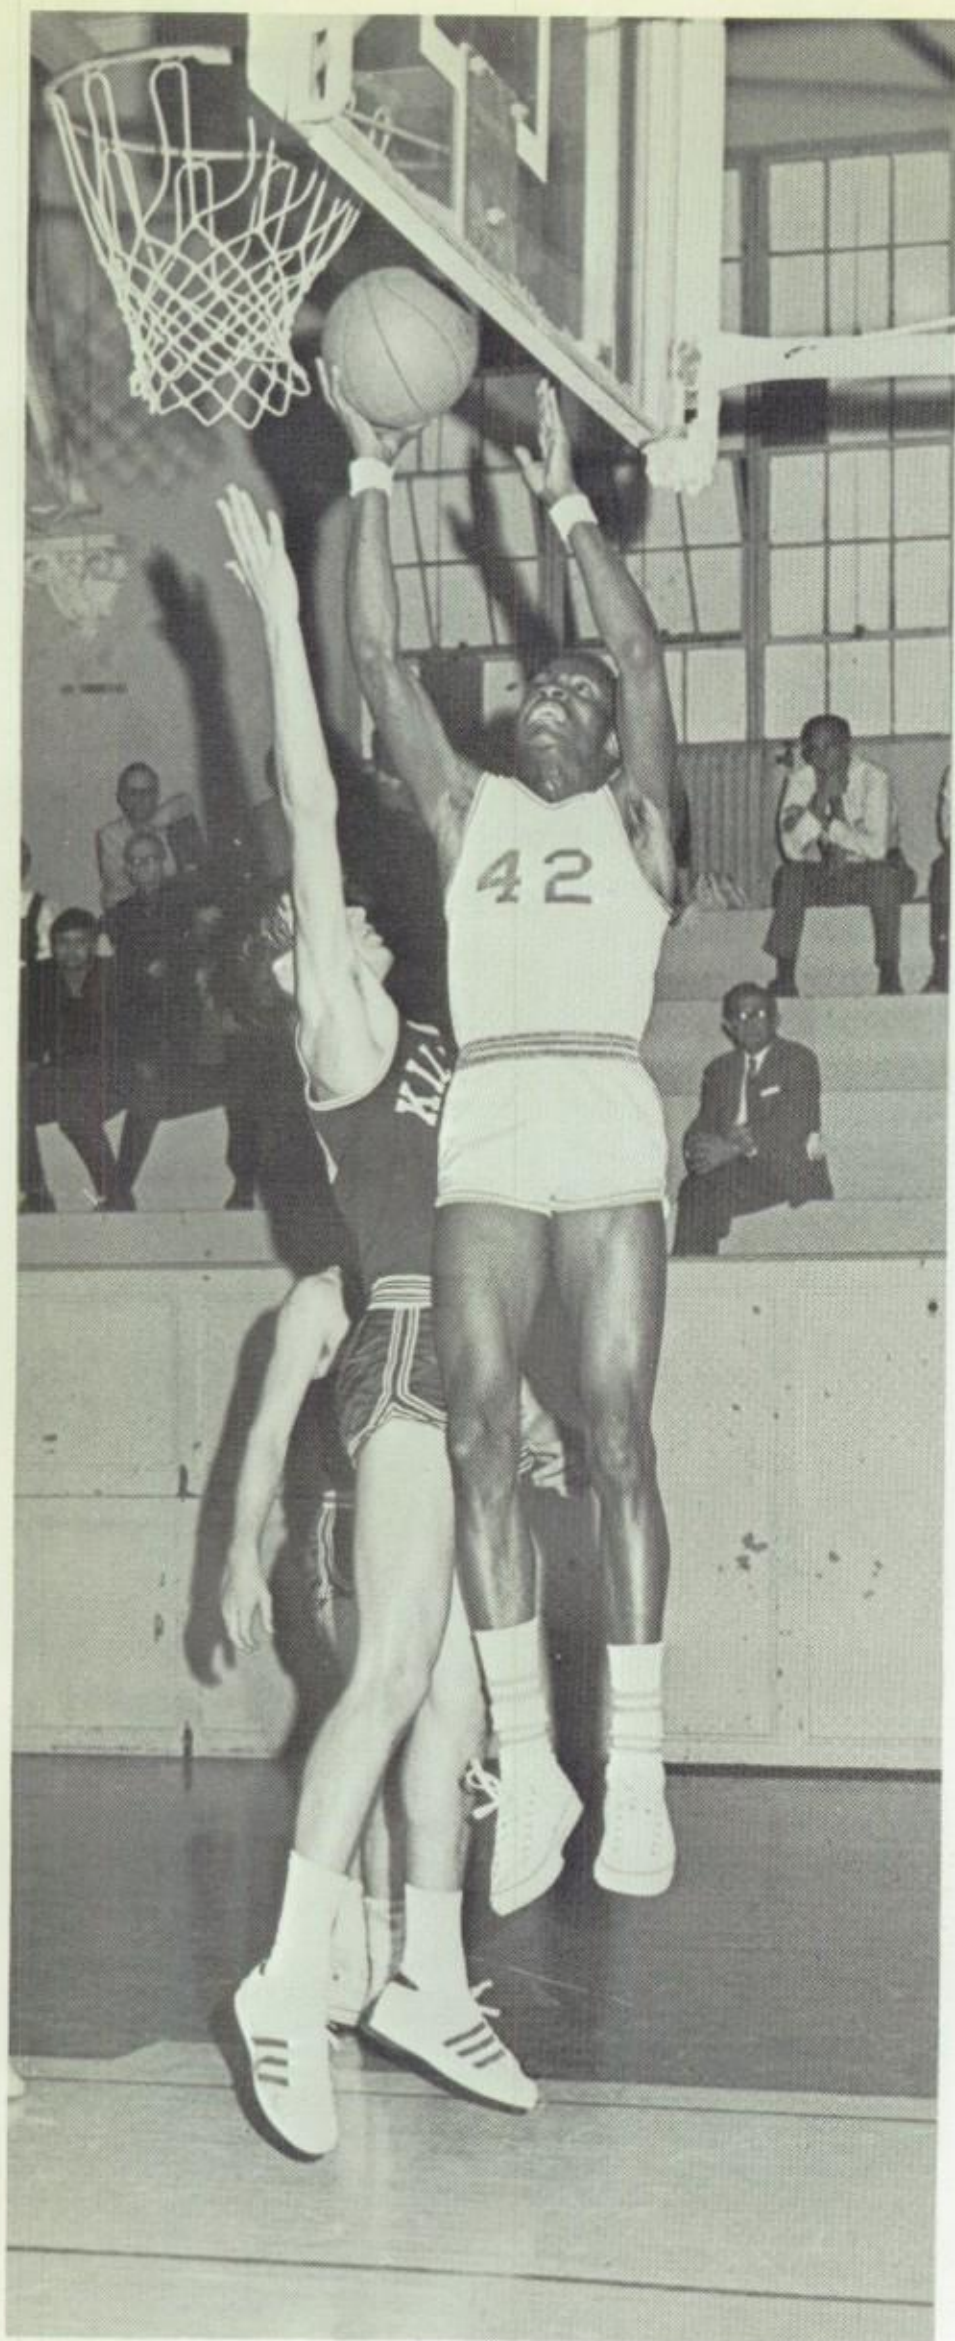

This year's Tiger basketball team had these three major ingredients. The potential and spirit demonstrated this year gives Waco High School a bright future for Tiger Basketball.

Tiger Baseball Ends Year with Winning Note

The 1970 Tiger Baseball team was a combination of good pitching, flawless fielding, and some real Tiger spirit. As Mr. Rowe said, "I've been rough on these boys for their first two years, and now I have a bunch of boys that are willing to work."

With nine lettermen returning, Coach Rowe and his Bengals were a stable and consistent playing baseball team. Mike Bradburn, Dennis Baier, and Mike Scott led the team with their consistent hitting, while Bill Craig, Billy Santry, and Dennis Baier contributed to the tight fielding which was one of the Tigers strong points.

Pitching for the varsity depended upon the strong arms of Bruce Roliard and Larry Williams. Roliard, with his unorthodox side arm delivery, pitched 34 innings of scoreless baseball, while Williams was close behind with 21 innings.

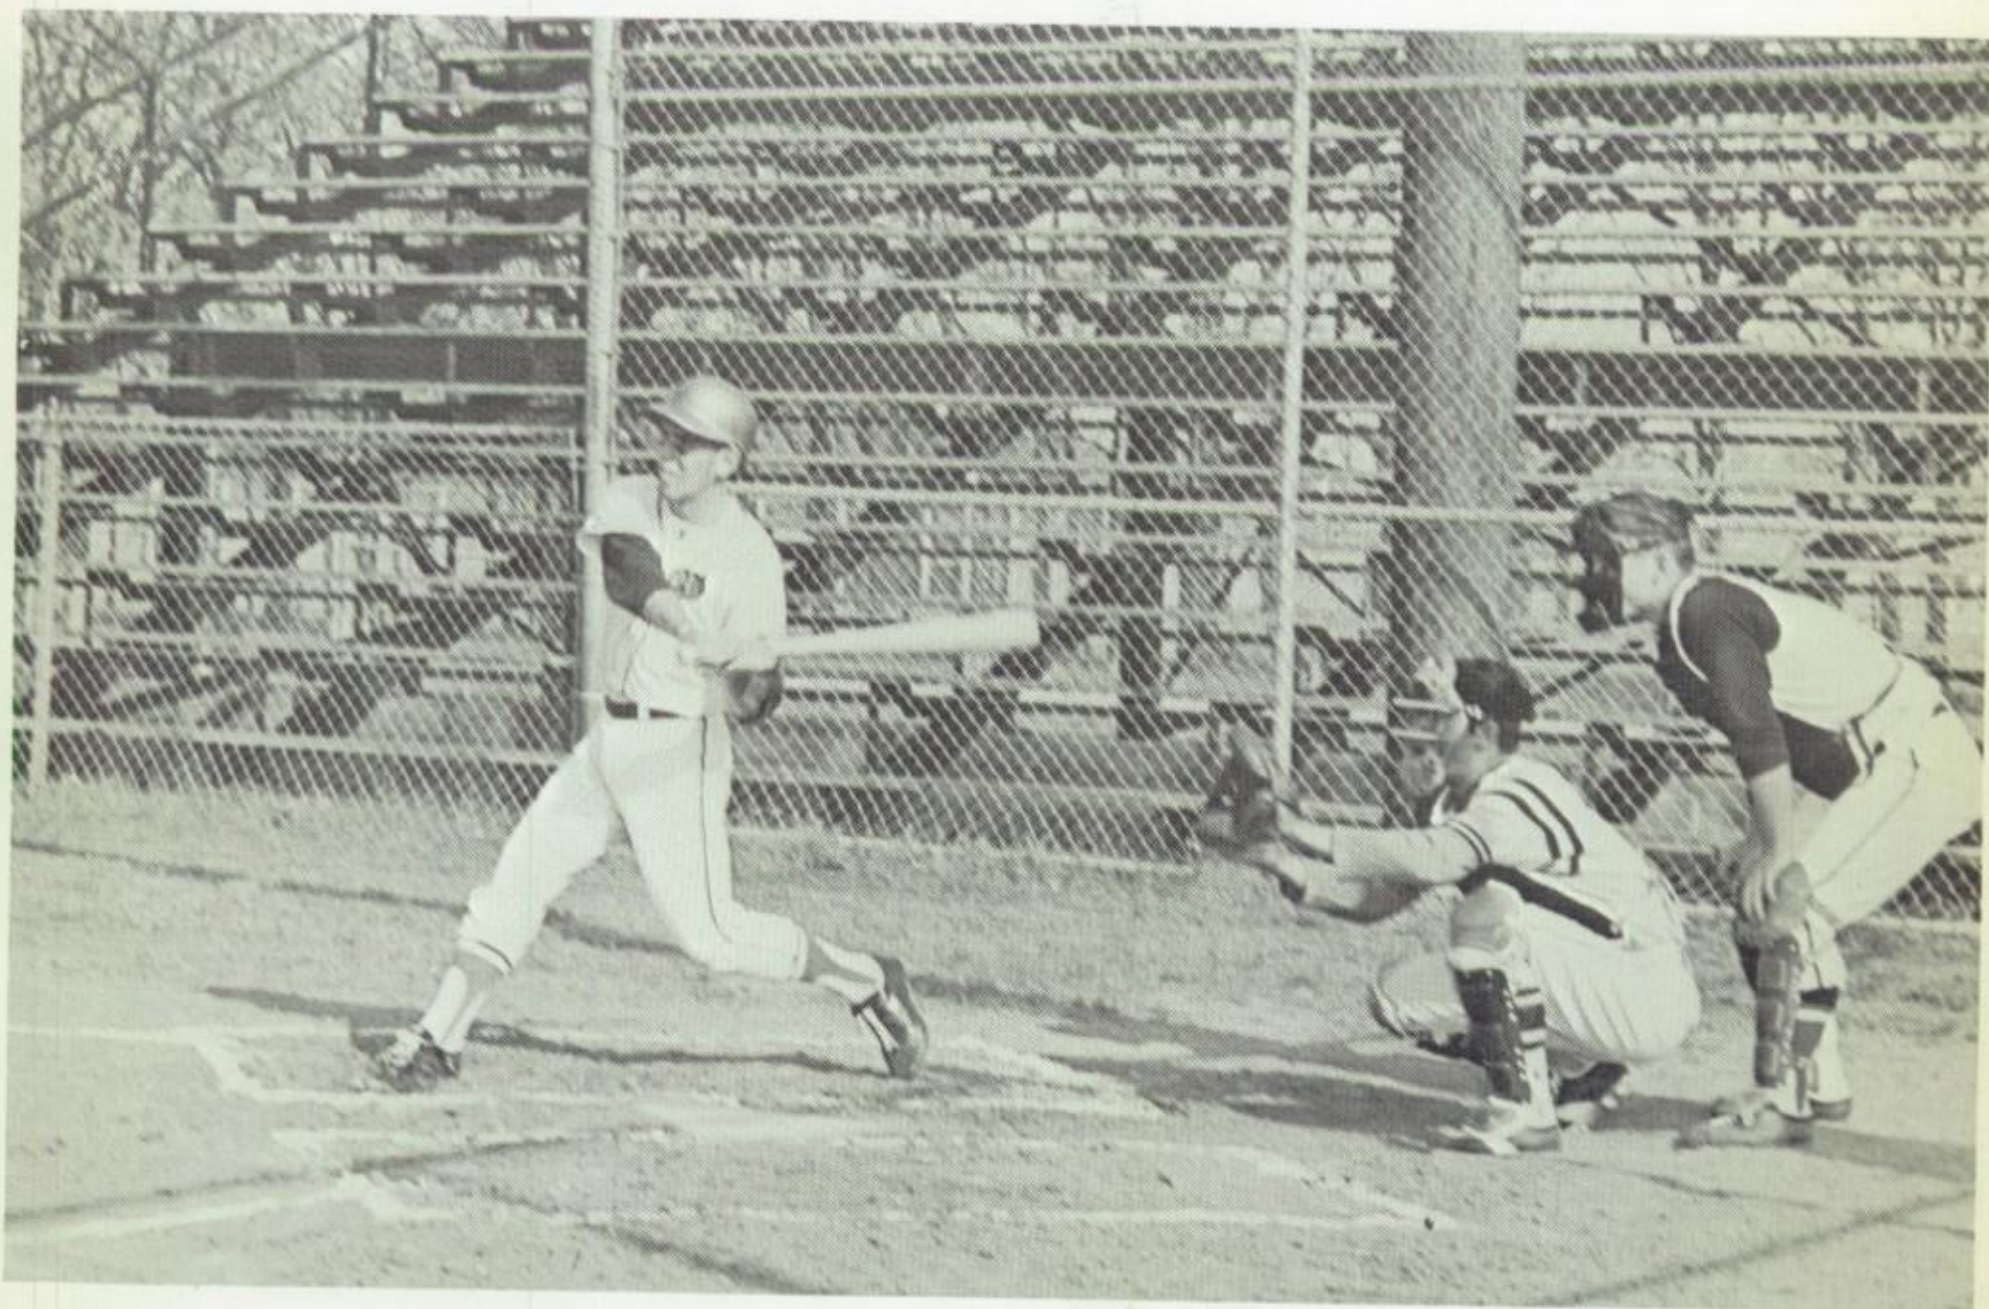

RIGHT: After his single in the first inning against Cleburne, Eddie Sherman leads off first base.

Baseball Team Takes 3rd In Waco Tournament With Win Over Killeen

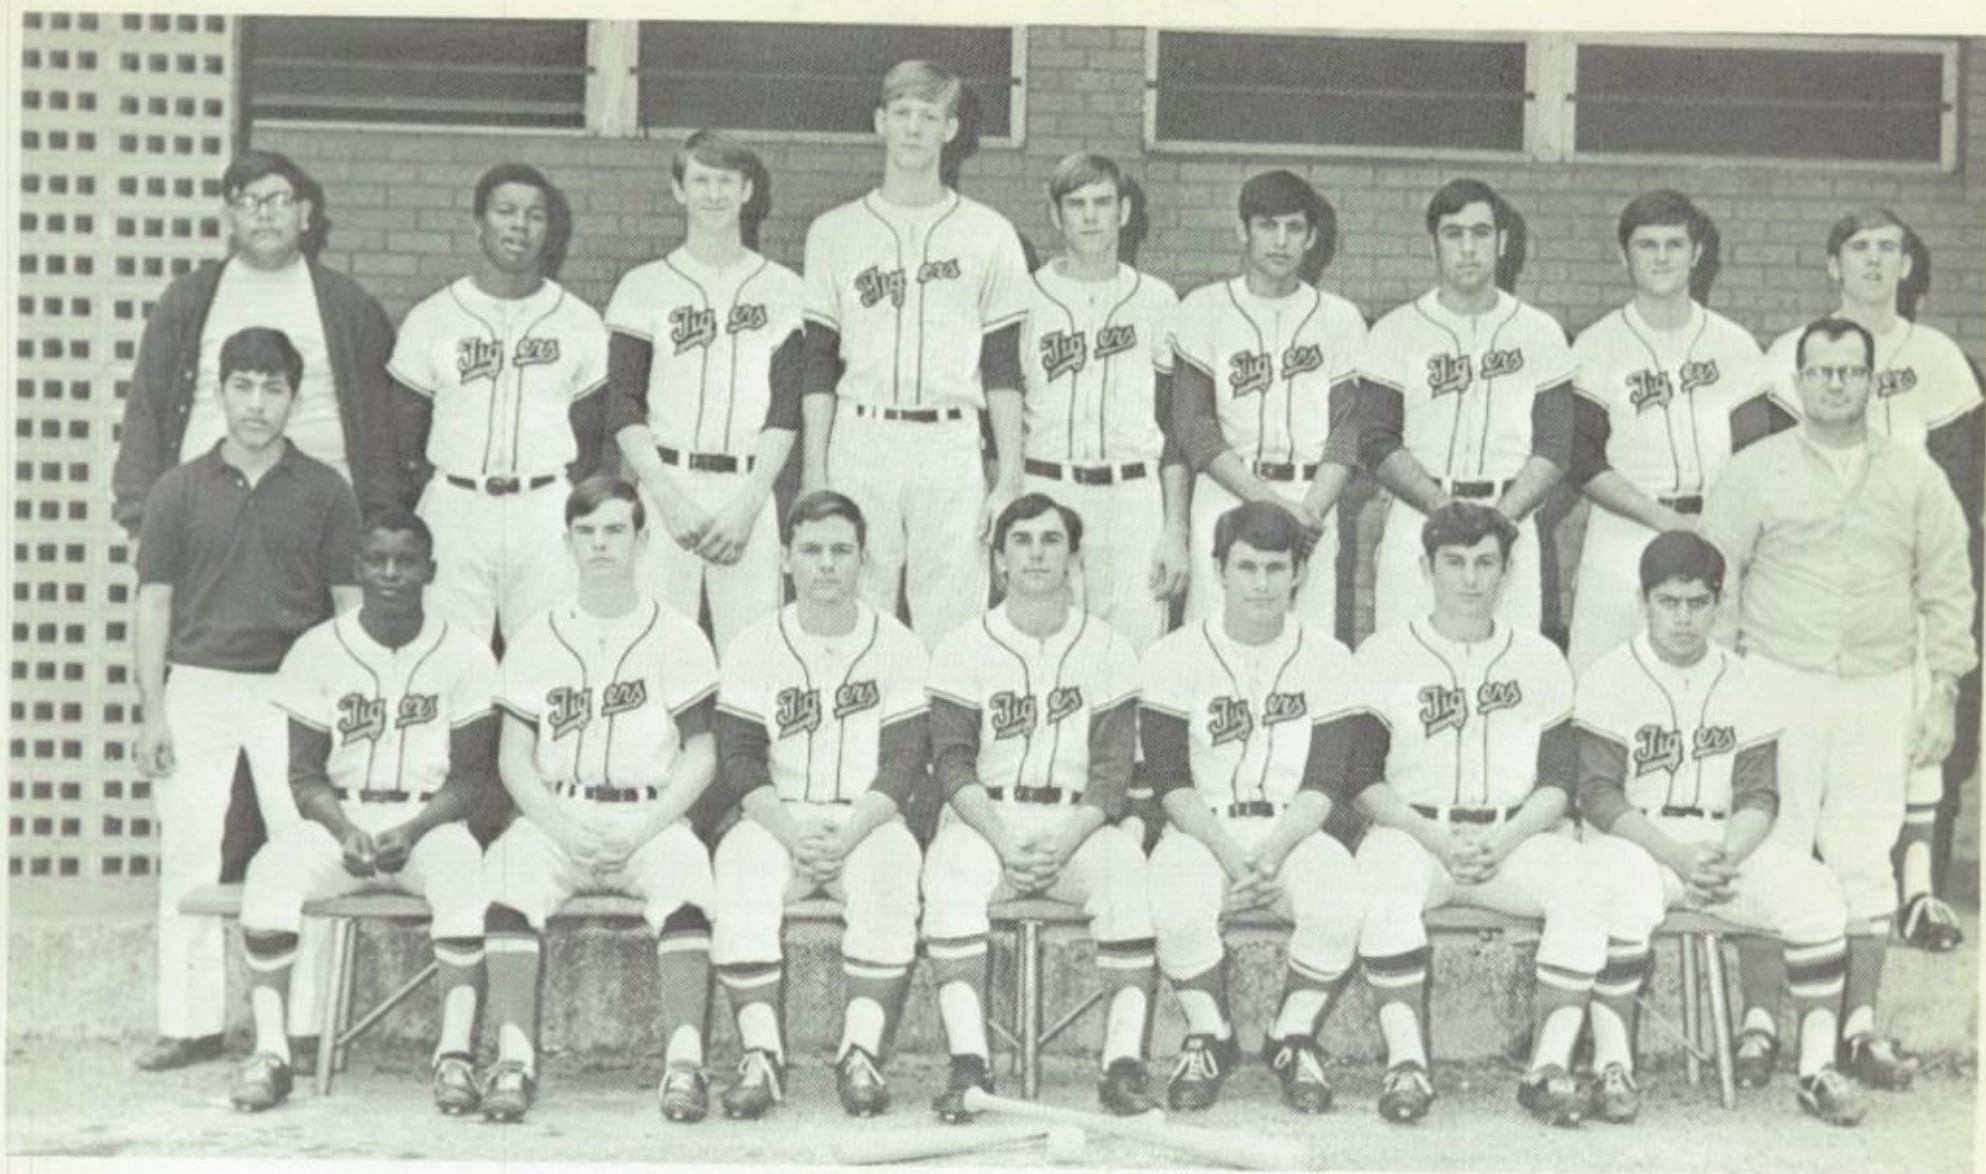

The Tigers copped third place in the Waco Baseball tournament in the pre-district season. The third place game was won in the first inning when Mike Scott sacrificed Dennis Baier home and Bill Craig scored on an error. The final run came in the fifth when Williams drove Baier in with a single. Bruce Roliard received the 3-0 victory as he struck out seven men.

The 1970 Bengals were a "good bunch", with exceptional talent. They brightened up a dull spring with their exciting play.

Lack of Experience Means Rebuilding Year for Track

With only four seniors on his squad Coach Joe Flood had to rely heavily upon his juniors and sophomores this year. Waco High could not boast of quantity, but they could of quality. Steve Wilson, last year's district winner in the 440 yard dash, lead the squad along with Richard Peoples, Ray Smith and Tony Taylor. Juniors were well represented on the '70 track team by Charles Alexander, the winner of various meets in the broad jump and hurdles, Russell Ross, and Steve Garner among others.

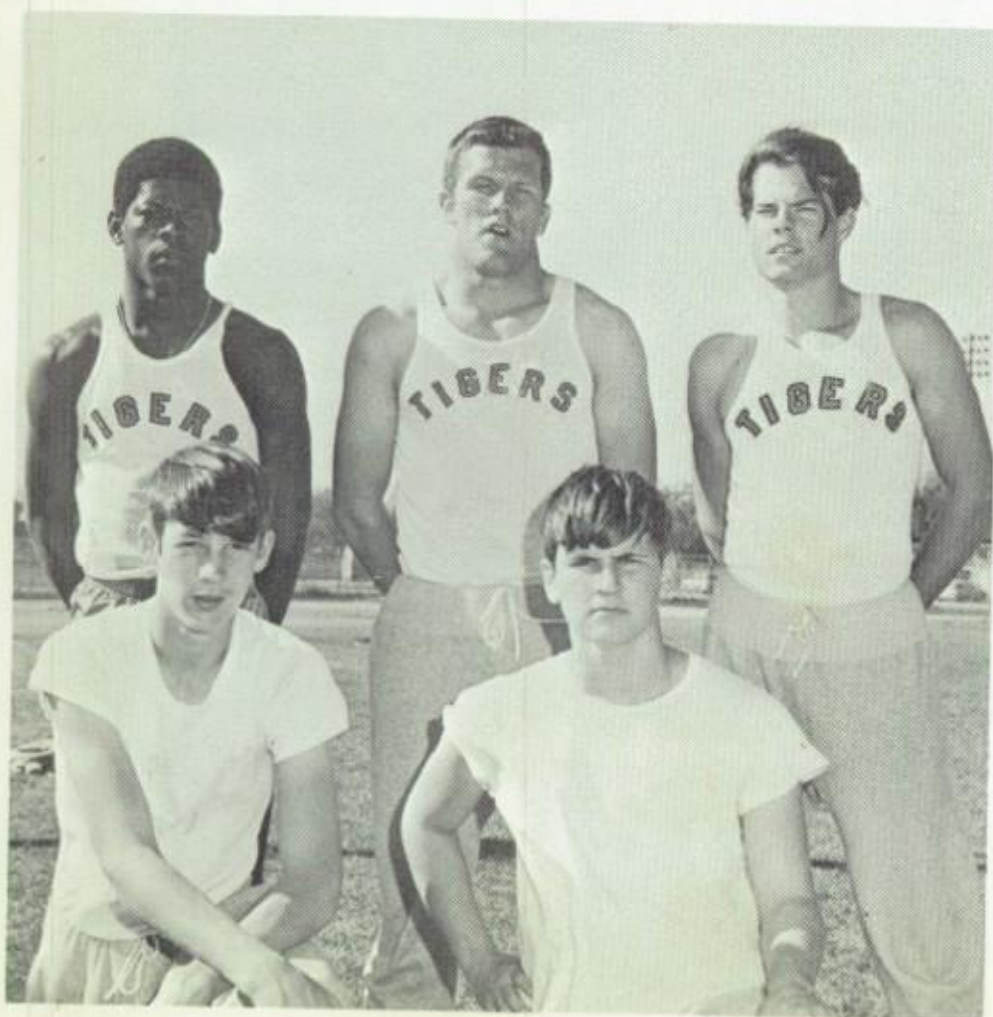

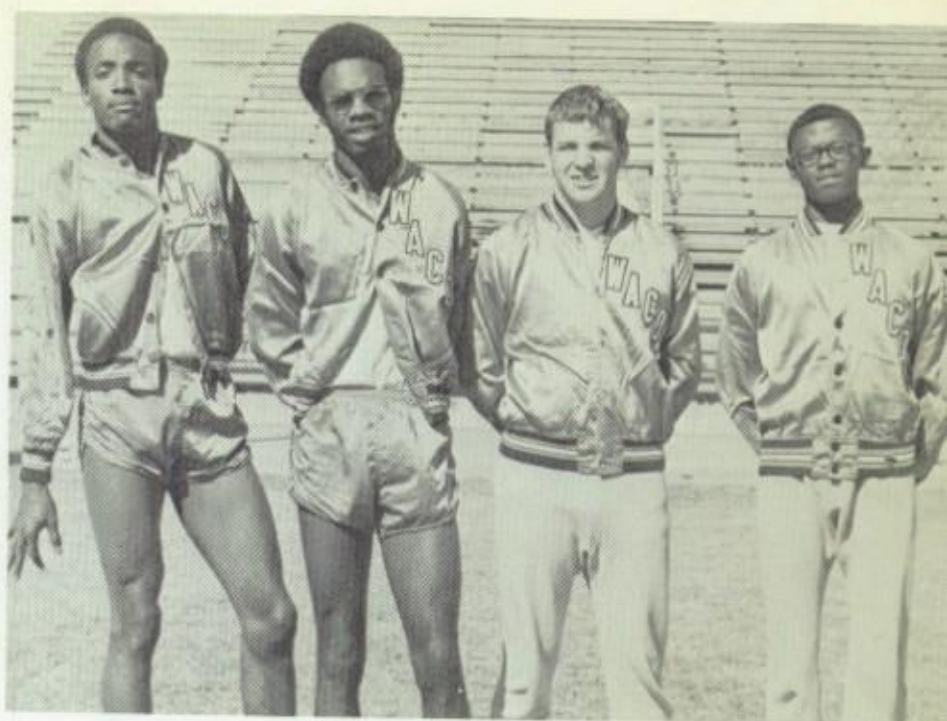

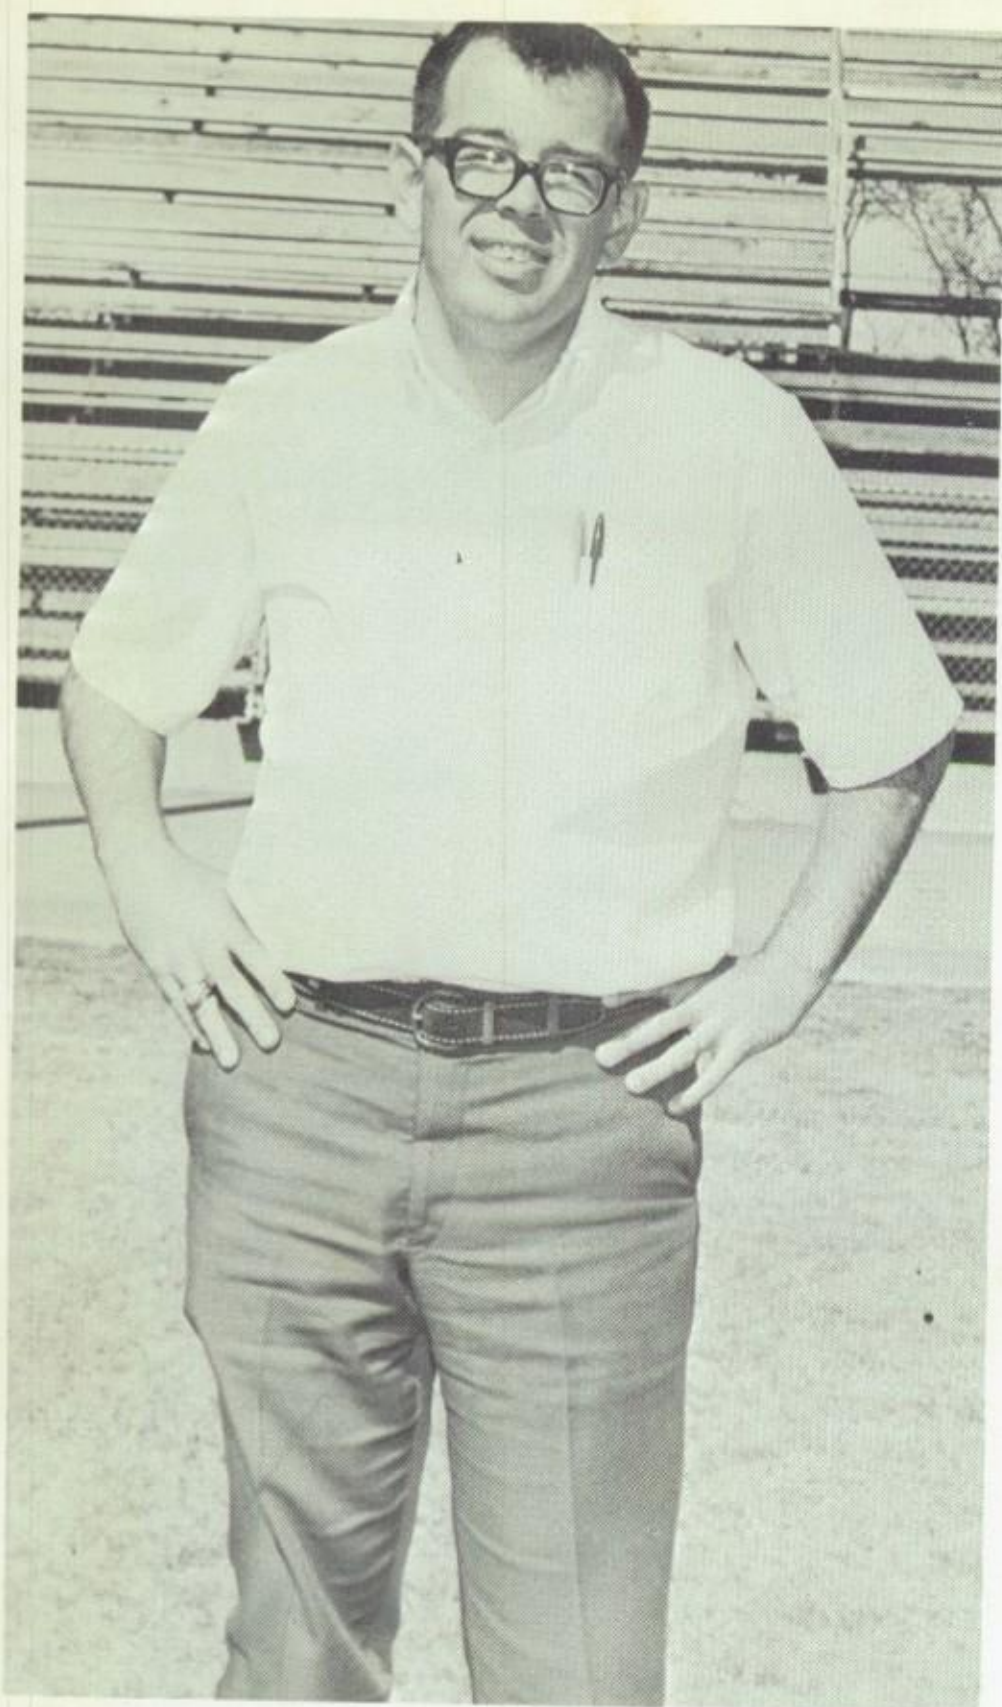

At the 1970 Waco Relays the Tigers placed over every other Waco District 14-AAAA team. Steve Wilson, Charles Alexander and the Tiger 440 relay team consisting of Steve Wilson, Richard Peoples, Steve Garner and Russell Ross built up most of the points for the Bengals. Coach Flood was pleased with this performance.

The Tigers outlook for 1971 shows a large number of returning cindermen and that means a good year for Waco High.

District Golf Tourney Held in Cleburne

Coach Jim Woods and his 1970 golf team were in a rebuilding year with only three seniors on the team, one of these a letterman. They competed in four golf tournaments before district: (1) Bastrop on February 28; (2) Austin on March 6-7, a 36 hole tournament played on two courses; (3) Gatesville on March 21; and (4) Bryan on April 3.

The District tournament, held at Cleburne, April 13-14, was played on two nine-hole courses. Returning lettermen Tommy Grimes and Mike Buckingham led the linksters over the Lake Pat Cleburne and Nolan River Country Club courses to end their season.

Boys' Doubles Gets 1st at District

The Tiger tennis team was a combination of experience and quality that Mrs. Dodgen shaped into a district contender. The boy's doubles and singles performed well in a number of major tournaments, and the girl's doubles and singles followed suit.

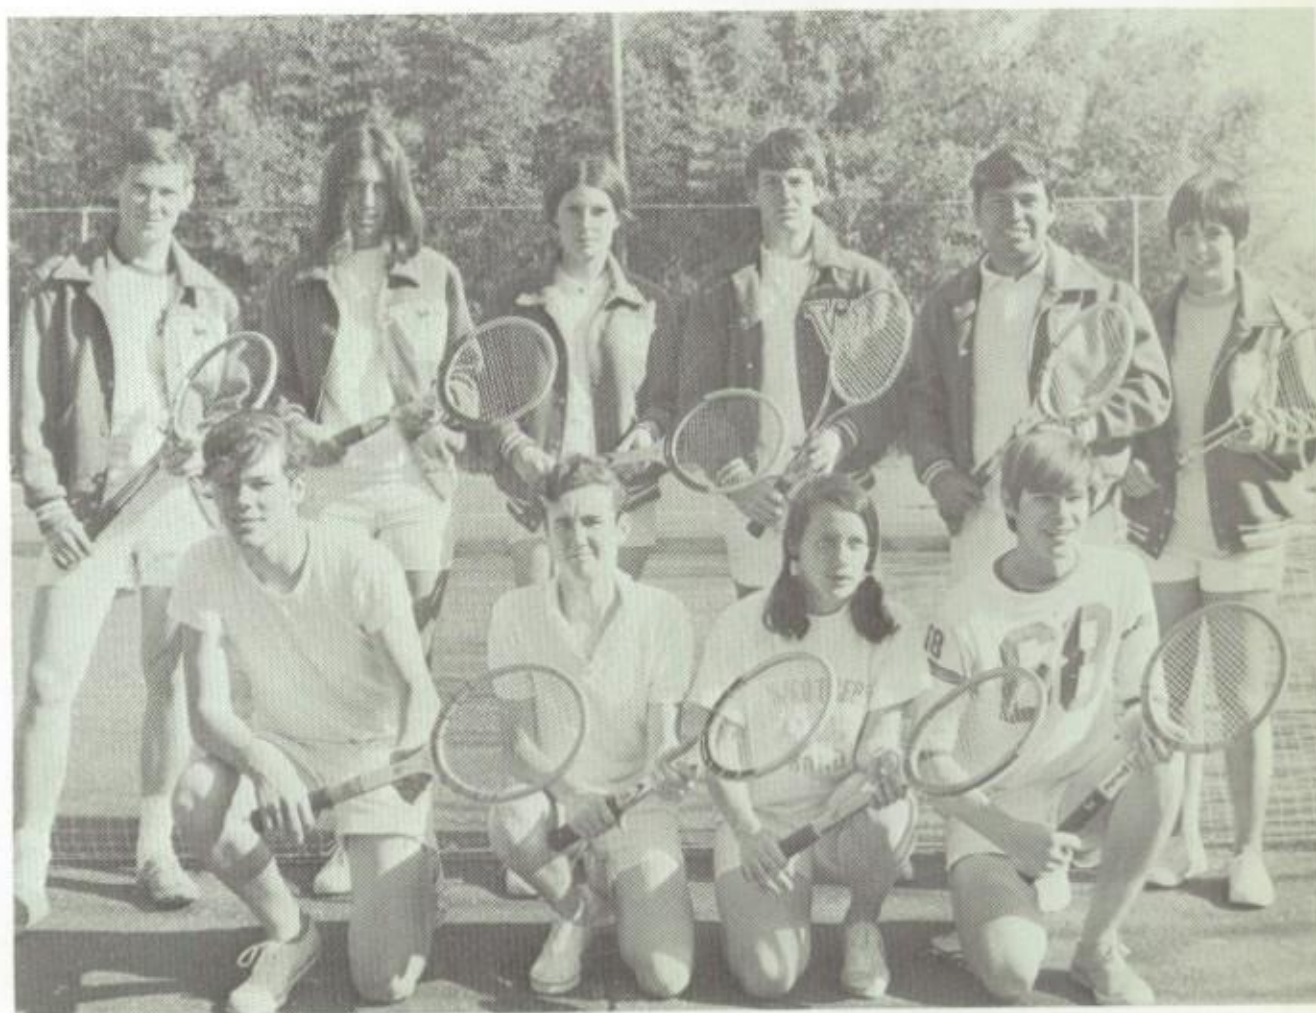

At the Dallas tennis tournament, Lee McCleary and Fred Herring won the boy's doubles division. The next tournament Curtis Rodriguez took the boy's singles. The tennis team also participated in the 1970 Waco Tennis Tournament, March 14, and placed in it.

District was held in Killeen. Lee McCleary and Fred Herring dominated the boy's doubles division. They won the right to go to the regional tournament in Ft. Worth by beating Killeen in the finals. The girl's doubles team of Sharon Mayfield and Lydia Kocian advanced to the finals before falling. Delores Kocian and Curtis Rodriguez lost in the semifinals.

Girl's Participate Too

With the available recreational activities for girls increased this year, more girls were able to compete against other schools as well as within the school. WHS girls participated in the Interschool Volleyball Tournament on March 10 against Moore, University, and Richfield. The team of 12 girls and 3 managers placed second.

Another area open to girls to participate in was the Baylor Olympics or Baylor Play Day. This was held the first week of May at Baylor and Paul Tyson Field. The girls competed in volleyball, aerial speedball, softball, badminton, tennis, and table tennis, and also in the 100 yd. dash, broad jump, softball throw, high jump, and the 440 yd. relay. Each girl competed in 3 events and WHS was represented by 15 girls.

A new addition to the girls athletic program is a P.E. class which meets in the field house to work out on the exer-genies and the "horse." Mrs. Dodgen, the instructor, says their best time for completing all ten exer-genie stations was 12 minutes. That's fast! Ask any guy.

"We've got spirit; we've got soul; we're the Class of '7' '0'!!" In September the seniors knew that within three years Waco High would be split into two new high schools; the Tradition of Waco High would soon be broken. The Class of '70 elected to start the change. For the first time seniors were exempt from January exams in half-semester courses, for the first time Baccalaureate services were voted out, for the first time (February 3) "because of the change in weather" girls--and teachers--were permitted to wear pants to school. This school year, the year of arm bands and protest, the year of searching for cultural and racial identity, the year of breaking with tradition, was also a year of upholding traditions. Senior officers, thus, organized the established senior activities: the magazine drive, Senior Recognition Day and picnic, and senior prom. But being a senior meant not only breaking and keeping traditions. It meant the anxiety of college entrance exams, the constant yearning for May 28, the agony of deciding where to go, what to do after graduation. Whether a senior had too many Accomplishments to list in the yearbook, or whether "No Club" or "Breakfast Club" totaled his record, each left part of himself to the Tiger Tradition and will take something of Waco High with him.

Class of '71 Prepares for Final Year

Confident in a familiar atmosphere, the juniors are proving themselves ready for the responsibility of becoming seniors. These underclassmen energetically involve themselves in WHS activities, clubs, organizations, and committees. Under the eyes of the entire faculty and student body, they strive toward scholastic achievement and leadership exhibiting potential, determination, willingness, and effort. The juniors boast Tiger spirit and enthusiasm by participation in skits, athletic and scholastic contests, social functions, and class activities. Following old traditions, and creating new traditions, the juniors confront problems yet to be mastered as the class of '71 strives to become a credit to WHS.

Electric Ranges Provide Cool Cooking

Jim Burton believes in cooking the modern way. Studies show a majority of people who learn to cook on an electric range in home economics classes hope they will always have an electric range to cook on! Among the reasons they give for electricity's popularity are "It's cleaner, heat is more accurately controlled, It's more modern, and gives you all the newest cooking conveniences, like the self-cleaning oven." A new electric range is so efficiently designed it cooks the food, not the air around it-and keeps your kitchen cooler. With automatic controls, It'll even cook your oven meals while you're away from home. Enjoy the easy, modern way to cook. Join the others who say-"It's an electric range for me-from now on!"

The 1970 DAISY CHAIN staff wishes to show special appreciation and acknowledgment to the following people:

Eddie Beckworth—photographer for the major portion of this book.

Mrs. Sue Jones—fall semester student teacher who greatly influenced the planning of this book.

Miss S. Thurman—spring semester student teacher.

W. J. Schwan family—for the use of their home "The Castle".

Miss Grant and Mrs. Wise—the study hall supervisors for their cooperation in excusing students when we needed extra help.

We found that underneath
the outer appearance is one common denominator that makes us
all alike—it is the need for one another;
the need to have others affirm that we are of value,
that we are needed and that we are real persons.
